BROCKTON WORKERS ASK 10 P. C. RAISE

Brockton, May 8.—Official announcement was made today by the Brockton Shoe Manufacturers' Association and the Brockton Joint Shoe Council that the unions proposed to the manufacturers at a conference Monday that 10 per cent. in wages cut off by a State board of arbitration decision March 13, 1922, and in effect since that time, be restored to the wage bills in all departments of local factories. The manufacturers' association took the proposal under advisement.

STATE OFFICIAL DIES SUDDENLY IN COURT

Manchester, N. H., May 8.—John J. Donahue, State insurance commissioner, dropped dead today on the witness stand at the county court house as he was testifying in an insurance case. Court attaches rushed to his assistance, but he was dead before help could reach him. The commissioner had been in poor health for several months. Heart failure was the cause of death.

IRISH REPUBLICANS TRAPPED IN HILLS

Dublin, May 8. (By the Associated Press).—A roundup of Irish Republicans is progressing in the mountains near Blessington, County Wicklow, where large numbers of them are reported to be hiding, according to reports received by the Central News. Heavy firing was heard this morning near Blessington. Later more than a dozen prisoners were brought into that town.

MRS. HARDING IS BOYCOTTING SUGAR

New York, May 8.—The White House has been added to the list of "sugar boycotters," Mrs. Warren G. Harding, in a letter to Mrs. Louis Reed Welzmiller, deputy commissioner of markets, declared that she is economizing on sugar "to the fullest possible degree."

The letter was in reply to a request that President Harding aid in the fight to lower sugar prices.

New York is consuming 21 per cent. less sugar today than before the opening of the campaign to force down the price.

GREECE THREATENS TO RESUME WAR

Athens, May 8 (By International News Service)—Greek delegates in the Near East peace conference at Lausanne are warned today that hostilities may break out unless Greece is able to obtain through the Lausanne parley redress for the seizure of Greek banks by Turks.

Greek officials said that a serious situation had been created. Many war rumors are prevalent. The Greek army chief has left for Salonika, headquarters of the Greek forces in Thrace.

ALLIES TO PUNISH CHINESE

Joint Action Planned by the Powers at Conference of Envoys in Peking Today

Washington, May 8.—The Council of Ministers in Peking has decided to make urgent representations to the Chinese government and recommend that punitive measures be taken by it to secure the release of foreigners still held captive by Chinese bandits who held up the Shanghai-Peking express train Sunday morning.

By International News Service.

Washington, May 8.—A council of Ambassadors and Ministers representing all the great powers is meeting in Peking today to decide on a course of action in the Chinese crisis brought about by the robbing and plundering of foreign travelers on the Peking-Shanghai express, it was announced at the State Department today.

Joint international action by the powers, as forecast yesterday in International News Service dispatches, thus appears assured.

The United States is represented in the council by Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, the American minister, whose over-night reports to Washington emphasized the seriousness with which the general situation in China is regarded by the ambassadors of the foreign governments.

PLAN JOINT ACTION.

The expectation prevails here that the council of diplomats will frame a joint set of demands upon the Peking government to effect the immediate release of the prisoners held by the bandits and set a time limit for this to be accomplished.

The penalty of failure on the part of the Chinese government will be Nevelle, American, defeated Chard, British, 7 and 6.

Herron, American, defeated Beddard, British, 2 and 1.

Rotan, American, defeated Schon, British, 7 and 6.

D. Grant, British, defeated Johnston, American, 2 and 1.

Marston, American, defeated Howie, British, 2 and 1.

Deal, England, May 8 (By the Associated Press).—S. Davidson Herron of Chicago, today defeated J. B. Beddard, South Staffs, in a first round match, 2 and 1, in the British amateur title tournament today.

The course, which yesterday was hard and fast, today was moist and much slower, for a steady rain fell most of the night. The sun broke through the clouds and the sky cleared just as the steady stream of players began the day's 18-hole journey off the first tee.

Herron played well against Bed-

Talk of Strike Because Foreman and Starter Are Discharged

Lowell, May 8.—A special meeting of the Lowell Street Carmen's Union has been called for this afternoon, which may result in the Lowell carmen on the Eastern Massachusetts lines joining the Lawrence carmen in their strike. Trouble is brewing here over the discharge today of Foreman William Cahill and Starter Michael Donlan, because of their refusal to take cars into Lawrence from Lowell.

Lawrence, May 8.—The Massachusetts Street Railways Company today asked Commissioner of Public Safety Peter Carr for police guards on cars which the company intends to operate in Lawrence with "loy-

BOOZE HUNT IN STATE HOUSE

Lockers of Members of House Searched by Order of G. O. P. Leaders

In the midst of the furors in the State Legislature over the charges by Rev. William L. Dubois, representative from West Stockbridge, that he saw four Boston members of the House drinking liquor in the House locker room, it became known today that the lockers had been searched within a week by authority of Republican leaders.

The ostensible reason for this search was a quest for a member's missing coat, which might have been locked in some other member's locker by mistake.

But the search was quite thorough. While they were about it the questing party took occasion to look over the contents of the lockers.

The lockers are generous in size, about two feet wide and deep and some six or seven feet high. They can hold considerable.

No contraband of any description was reported as found. Whether the

AIDED BY BUCKET SHOPS

Fugitive, Under Sentence for Conspiracy, Believed to Be "Master Mind"

David Lamar, the "Wolf of Wall Street," is being sought as the master mind responsible for the gigantic fraud which resulted in a small panic on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange yesterday.

Financial and brokerage houses that were victimized as the result of a flood of worthless cashiers' checks and buying orders claim the "Wolf" perpetrated the fraud with the aid of a number of former bucket shop proprietors through a headquarters in New York city.

Lamar is now a fugitive from justice, having been convicted and sentenced to one year in prison for conspiracy to restrain foreign trade and commerce during the war.

It is pointed out by brokers that

LAWRENCE CAR STRIKERS OFFER TRUCE

Lawrence, May 8.—The ending of the local street carmen's strike was today placed squarely up to the employers as a result of a vote taken by the strikers in Columbia Hall. The carmen voted to return to work tomorrow morning provided the company arbitrate the wage issue, and restore working conditions that obtained prior to 1920. These conditions included the seniority rule and the adjustment of matters of discipline.

DRIVER INJURED IN ICE WAGON RUNAWAY

John Myers, No. 50 Palmer street, Roxbury, a driver's helper for the Boston Ice Company, was sent to City Hospital after he had been thrown from the truck in Elliot square today. The horses became frightened at the sound of an auto and ran away, coming to a stop only when the truck collided with an elevated post.

BRAKEMAN FOUND DEAD IN TENDER

Providence, May 8. — John F. Healy, twenty-five, of New Haven, a brakeman on the New Haven road, was found dead in the tender of a Boston-Providence freight train between this city and Pawtucket. He is believed to have received his death blow as the train was passing beneath the Pleasant View Bridge in Pawtucket.

punitive action on the part of the powers themselves with the troops now available there, it is believed.

The ambassadors already have informed the Peking government that it will expect to furnish the ransom demanded by the bandits for the release of the Americans.

The action of the great powers thus constitutes virtually an ultimatum to Peking.

The three most interested nations are the United States, Great Britain and Italy, the nationals of these people being among those held captive. It is understood that the diplomatic representatives of the other powers, France, Japan and the Netherlands are co-operating.

Exactly how much time has been allotted to the Chinese government to comply with the demands is not known here. Apparently this also has been left to the judgment of the diplomats on the grounds.

One American Is Killed by Chinese

Shanghai, May 8 (By Associated Press)—Two foreigners, including one unidentified American, have been killed in the shooting incident to the bandit raid on the Peking express train, according to a list compiled here today. One of the foreigners was Joseph Rothman, a British subject.

Threaten Death to All Their Captives

(Copyright 1923 by International News Service.)

Shanghai, May 8.—The Chinese bandits who held up a Shanghai-Peking passenger train, seizing about 150 persons, including many Americans, near the Shantung peninsula, today sent out an ensnary threatening death to all the captives unless the pursuing Chinese regular soldiers are recalled.

The message was brought by an American commercial traveler and writer, Thomas Day, a passenger on the train. Day was among those captured.

A Chinese interpreter was sent with him from the robbers' stronghold in the mountains.

This was the first direct word from the brigands since the passenger train was wrecked and looted.

Day arrived at Tien-Tsin weakened from exposure and lack of rest. He gave this graphic account of the raid:

MARCH A NIGHTMARE.

"The march from the scene of the attack to the mountains was a ghastly nightmare. The brigands wielded their gun butts right and left, forcing the weary prisoners onward with blows and curses.

"The night was pitch black, there was no moon, but the men in the captive gang were helpless. They were partly clothed, suffering from pain and shock and in a strange, wild country. There was not a single way in which they could communicate with agencies of aid.

"The captives were divided into small parties to make escape harder. Each group was heavily guarded and hustled forward at top speed towards the mountains.'

"Sometimes a prisoner would stop and attempt to dig the burrs from his bare feet. The Chinese would grunt a warning. If it was disregarded, a slap in the face or a poke with a rifle barrel would follow.

"With the coming of dawn, the party reached a grove of trees at the base of a towering mountain.

LEAVE GUARD FOR WOMEN.

"On the way two of the women prisoners had fallen exhausted. All the beating of the brigands could not rouse them. They were helpless. Finally it was decided to move on and leave a guard over the helpless women.

"The brigands moved into a sheltered spot on the mountainside. Not long after the loot had been hidden, the advance guard of the Chinese soldiers put in appearance.

"The brigands fired a few rifle shots to warn them back. The regulars took up sheltered positions and then the rifle fire became continuous on both sides.

"The bandits were led by a hard-faced ruffian. He ordered me to take a Chinese interpreter and go out with a message to the soldiers. I was forced down the hillside to tell the soldiers to stop firing or all the captives would be killed.

Women and Children Clubbed by Bandits

Shanghai, May 8.—I believe that the bandits in whose hands rests the fate of a dozen or so Americans, many additional citizens of other nations and probably 100 Chinese, will make a desperate fight before they can be forced to release their captives.

The brigands are well organized and appeared able to meet any attack. They are a rough, cruel lot. They are of the heavy Shantung former type, ragged, unkempt and wearing queues around their heads, which adds to the fierceness of their aspect.

They are all well armed with polished rifles and bandoliers crammed with cartridges.

WOMEN ARE BEATEN.

The foreigners in their power are having a hard time of it. When the bandits began their flight towards the mountains from the wrecked train, virtually all of the prisoners were in their bare feet, having just been aroused from sleep.

The roughness of the ground over which the flight was made and the lightness of the clothing worn by the prisoners, caused them intense suffering and threatened them with illness. All were in their night clothes.

Unless the captives, particularly the women and children, are soon released they will most certainly be sick.

The bandits gave no consideration to the women and children. They beat them with their rifles and spat upon them when they lagged. But in all this—despite their natural fright, exposure, terrible treatment, and anxiety for loved ones—the American women were most courageous.

Mrs. Roland W. Pinger, wife of Major Pinger of the Ordnance Department, U. S. A., walked until she dropped from exhaustion, carrying her three-year-old son.

FIGHTS TO SAVE CHILD.

As she fell she clasped him tightly to her body and when a bandit attempted to take the little lad from her she fought him like a tiger. As she lay upon the ground, she saw her eight-year-old son carried off in one direction while her husband, fighting to come to her aid, was driven off in another direction.

Mrs. Robert A. Allen, wife of Major Allen of the Medical Corps, U. S. A., and Mrs. Pinger were released. They were taken on board a relief train sent from Peking and brought to Shanhai. On the train they were treated by a physician and given food for the first time in twelve hours. They were suffering from cuts and bruises and lacerated feet. After warm food and rest they were all right.

Here is the graphic story told to the International News Service through me by Mrs. Allen:

"Major Allen showed resistance when the bandits broke into our compartment, but my son cried out: 'Go with them, papa. I will stay with mother.'

BANDITS ALL ARMED.

"I was forced from the train in my nightgown and in my bare feet. The robbers seemed to be in a great hurry and would give no one time to dress.

"The roadbed of the railway was made of sharp cinders and my feet were badly cut as soon as I jumped down from the train steps.

"I was separated from my family at once. The train had been carefully searched. Fifteen of the bandits were carrying loot in blankets slung over their shoulders.

"All were armed. Two of the Chinese, burly fellows with dark, evil faces, drove Mrs. Pinger and myself for three hours. They carried long barrelled rifles in their hands.

"When our strength gave out, they beat us and slapped us. Finally when we fell prostrate and were unable to move another foot, they left us there with a brigand standing guard over us.

RESCUED BY TROOPS.

"For two hours we were huddled on the ground in the cold, shivering and wondering what would be our ultimate fate. The brigand walked up and down and at times poking his rifle to keep warm. At other times he squatted down, peering at us.

"After a time a detachment of regular soldiers came up in pursuit of the brigands. They gave us blankets to wrap ourselves in and a little coarse food. They assisted us back to the railway line, near Tien-Tsin.

$50,000 Is Price Set by Bandits on Each Foreigner

Shanghai, May 8.—Two escaped Chinese passengers, arriving at Tsinan, related that the captives were marched 10 miles into the hills and there classified by the outlaw chieftain, according to their probable worth.

After questioning, it was decided that foreigners would be held for a ransom of $50,000 each; Chinese of the "first class" for $30,000 each, those of the second class for $10,000 each, and those held to be of lower value for $2,000.

All Women Freed, Says Schurman

Washington, May 8.—Minister Schurman reported that the Chinese bandits had released all the women taken prisoners when the train was wrecked but still held fourteen men for ransom. The department issued this statement, paraphrasing its reports from its officials in China:

"The department has received information to the effect that Miss Aldrich, Miss MacFadden and Miss Schonberg are now safe in Tsinanfu.

"Mr. T. H. Day of Ridgewood, N. J., escaped from the bandits and arrived safely in Tientsin.

"Mr. Robert Scripps was not on the wrecked train and has arrived at Peking.

"Messrs. Henry Zimmerman and V. Hainovitch, Americans, escaped after the wreck and reached Tientsin May 8.

"The following men and children have not been heard from and evidently are still being held captive: Major Pinger and son, Mr. Henly, Mr. Levy, Mr. L. C. Solomon, Mr. J. B. Powell, Mr. L. Friedman.

"Mr. Lehrbas escaped and Mr. Thomas Day of Officer & Co., New York city, has been released.

"It is reported that all the women have been released, while the men are being held for ransom.

"Fourteen men, Americans and other nationalities, are still held."

"WOLF" LAMAR SOUGHT IN BIG STOCK HOAX

Lamar has strong connections in Utica, N. Y., Harrisburg, Pa., and Pittsfield, from which cities many of the fake orders were mailed. Lamar owns a $50,000 home in Pittsfield.

WIFE SETTLES.

Since Lamar forfeited his $25,000 bond three months ago he has been sought by Federal operatives and Burns detectives in the employment of the bonding company and Lamar's wife, who signed his bond.

At the time of this settlement, Mrs. Lamar announced that she would drop divorce proceedings against her husband.

It has been known that Lamar did not leave New York as was at first supposed, but that he has been seen around New York in company with a group of Broadway characters and that a girl known to be friendly with Lamar moved suddenly.

GIRL IS FOUND.

She was located by a reporter for the Boston American in another apartment near Central Park West and the superintendent of the building identified a picture of Lamar as that of a man who had called on her the night after she moved in.

During the past six weeks reports have come through to the effect that Lamar had surrounded himself with a group of financial "outlaws." These men, it is said, include five men whose so-called "brokerage concerns" have been closed by the authorities.

It is charged that Lamar arranged with a number of houses, through this brokerage house, to "bucket" a vast number of buying orders and also to sell the market short.

Agents were dispatched to different cities in New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania with envelopes containing bogus cashiers' checks and buying orders for large amounts of stock.

PRINTED IN NEW YORK.

These letters were mailed simultaneously so that they would reach New York and Boston brokers just before the opening of trading on the stock exchanges Monday.

It is charged that the spurious checks and even the letter heads were printed at the New York headquarters. The letters were all written on stationery of the same water mark, but carried the names of a number of different business houses.

A sharp rise at the opening of trading took place in several stocks as the result of the fake orders. Suddenly word came to the trading floor that the checks were spurious. Wild excitement followed.

Stocks tumbled as the victimized brokers sought to sell out. United States Steel crashed through par to a new low for the year. Practically the entire list followed, tumbling to new low records.

It is charged that, during the crash, customers having bought shares on margin were sold out by the bucket shops and that the members of the gang perpetrating the fraud closed out their short interest at a profit running into millions.

All were charged with disorderly conduct, the additional charge of aiding and abetting in giving a disorderly performance being made against three officers of the club. Miss Elite Callaghan was charged with giving an immoral dance and Mrs. Lillian Smith with telling Snappy stories.

When the meeting began five detectives were in attendance, and when it ended, the detectives arose and announced that everybody was under arrest.

The announcement was a signal for a rush for the door. Three men who escaped into a back yard, surrendered when a distective fired a shot into the air.

Police Show Forged Checks Sent to Boston Brokers

The police today made public a copy of the letters received by fifteen Boston stock brokers, containing forged checks, and ordering the purchase of New York Central Railroad stock.

The letters were written on the stationary of fifteen banks in the Western part of Massachusetts, and the signatures of an officer of each bank forged to both letter and check.

The names of the banks are withheld by the police in the fear that their publication might cause runs on the banks or otherwise prove embarrassing to innocent persons and institutions.

The letters are identical, except in the names used.

BROKERS ASSIGN, DUE TO STOCK SLUMP

Announcement was made today of the assignment of Keveney Bros., members of the Boston Stock Exchange, with offices at No. 53 State street. The assignment is said to involve less than $100,000, due to a general market decline and shrinking business. George Shields, of No. 294 Washington street, is assignee. The senior member of the firm, John W. Keveney, has held membership in the Boston Stock Exchange since June 30, 1919. His partners are Charles Keveney and Herbert S. Potter.

Commissioner Carr flatly refused. He said there had been no violence as yet in the street carmen's strike here and the men had shown no disposition to begin rioting.

Although the Lawrence strike is declared outlawed by the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes, President John H. O'Brien of the Lawrence Local declared today that he is hourly expecting word from Chelsea that Local No. 240 of that city had gone out in sympathy with the Lawrence strikers, and that there was a movement on foot to call out the carmen on the Lowell division. If the men in the Chelsea division go out, he said, it would tie up service in a half a dozen cities and towns in Greater Boston.

The Merrimac street car barns here were heavily picketed today in anticipation of the arrival of a number of carmen from other divisions who, though acting as strike breakers, come with the sanction of the union headquarters in Detroit.

Chelsea Car Men Vote Today on Joining Lawrence Strike

A strike vote will be taken today by members of the Chelsea Car Men's Union to see whether or not they will join the city of Lawrence car men in their walkout.

The Chelsea union includes workers who run from Reading to Lawrence. Their grievances are said to be the same as the local here.

At a mass meeting held in Central Hall, Chelsea, they promised a delegation from the Lawrence union that they would stop running cars into this city. James H. Vahey addressed the meeting.

Members of the executive board of the Lowell branch of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes reached an agreement with officials of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company, whereby cars on the Lowell-Lawrence line will be operated only as far as Merrimack Park by Lowell employes.

missing coat was located does not appear.

Another feature today was demand by Representative Robert Dinsmore, Democrat, of East Boston, that Representative DuBois exonerate him from any part in the alleged liquor-drinking quartet under pain of formal demand on the House floor that DuBois name the guilty four.

If this demand fails, Dinsmore declares, he will make formal demand for full investigation.

"I was awakened at 5:30 this morning," said Dinsmore, "and before leaving my home for the State House had received at least ten more telephone calls from constituents demanding to know if I were one of the four Boston Representatives found drinking whiskey in the locker room.

WILL DEMAND PROBE.

"I have been hunting all over the State House for Representative DuBois. As soon as I meet him I shall demand that he give me a letter stating that I was not one of the four.

"If he fails to do that I shall arise in the House and demand that he name the four and describe the liquor drinking.

"If he fails to do that I shall introduce an order demanding an investigation."

BRITISH OFFICIAL SHOT IN MOSCOW

Moscow, May 8 (By the Associated Press).—Henry Slogett, a member of the British mission, was seriously wounded last evening when his official automobile was boarded by a bandit who was trying to escape from the scene of a burglary. The man was fired upon by the pursuing militia and a bullet struck Slogett in the head. I. Patterson, another Briton who was riding in the machine, was not harmed. The surgeon who attended Slogett said he thought the bullet had not penetrated the brain.

The bandit who was the cause of the shooting was seriously wounded and will probably die.

SEVERE SHOCK in Wall Street for a little while. Some ingenious gambler thief sent forged cheques and orders to many brokers, telling them to buy many stocks. Brokers bit, and bought. Stocks went up, then went down with a bang when the truth came out. Meanwhile, someone, somewhere, made money selling to the gulls that bought.

DO YOU notice how little original cheating is done. It means, probably, that intelligence can make what it needs without cheating, also that honesty increases with intelligence. Some gambler at Monte Carlo once pinched all the odd number compartments on a roulette wheel, making the even compartments wider, then bet on even numbers and broke the bank two or three times. That was ingenious. Another Inventor made a fortune with an electrical sugar refining machine. First-class granulated sugar came out of it, because the men had put that kind of sugar into it. And Barnum exhibited his woolly horse, with false wool. But swindlers are usually dull.

PRESIDENT HARDING showed judgment choosing for Secretary of the Treasury Mr. Mellon, who had proved he knew something about money, by gathering up five or six hundred million dollars. The United States debt has been reduced more than a billion and a half since April, 1921, and the government this year will have a surplus of 165 million dollars. The fiscal year's ending will find the national debt down to about twenty-two thousand, four hundred millions. That sounds big, but it's less than $224 per capita, and a good deal less than half one's year's income.

History of
MATOAKA
Mother of Tobacco

PART 2

FRIENDLIEST of all her associates to the English strangers, Matoaka or Pocahontas as she was popularly called, speedily became the hope of the white settlers' leaders for cordial contact with the Indians of Virginia. Thinking that Matoaka's influence was so great, her value to her father, Powhattan, would be so high as to force anything from him, the English leaders abandoned friendliness and in 1610 abducted Matoaka from her father's village to be held as a hostage in Jamestown.

Powhattan prepared for a war which would have meant disaster to the colony. But Matoaka was to be their salvation, though not as they had thought. By the charm of her regal personality she had earned the reverence of the colonists, learned their speech and ways, and from being an alien hostage had become an adopted daughter through whom they might make peace.

It was during this period of education in the ways of the English that Matoaka met and fell in love with John Rolfe, a young colonist who was anything with indifference to the nature and raising of tobacco, and he as emissary from her to her father composed the peace which none of his seniors could attain. Matoaka was baptized with the name of "Rebecca" on April 11th, 1613, and a year later she consented to the marriage which took place April 5th, 1614. At her wedding the Powhattan chieftains first received friendly contact with the English and from this time dates the success of tobacco culture, also under the improved methods which John Rolfe learned from his Indian wife. To Matoaka is due the success of the first and one of the greatest commercial developments of the New World.

LIVES ONLY TO OBTAIN JUSTICE

Loses House Valued at $20,000 Because of a Debt of Only $360

Mrs. Margaret Wood, ninety years old, of No. 35 Peterborough street, Back Bay, is fighting to regain her home, taken from her by legal proceedings which she does not understand.

Although she is suffering with the infirmities of age, Mrs. Wood vows she will not die "until I have received justice in the courts, and my home has been returned to me."

She is aided in her legal fight by her widowed daughter, Mrs. Ella Wood Haskell, and her two granddaughters, Mrs. Joseph Cook, No. 35 Peterborough street, Back Bay, formerly Arline Haskell of the vaudeville team of Haskell & Haskell, and Mrs. Joseph Donovan, formerly Marguerite Haskell, who is now playing on the Keith circuit.

LET ROOMS TO STUDENTS.

Until four years ago, Mrs. Wood lived at No. 330 Harvard street, Cambridge, a fourteen-room house now appraised at $20,000. Mrs. Haskell lived with her. The income from rooms rented to Harvard students was sufficient to provide a comfortable livelihood, and to meet payments on a mortgage against the house.

Then came misfortune. There was death in the family, and it became necessary to place a second mortgage on the home to meet expenses. The burden of meeting payments on the second mortgage became too great during a period of financial stress, and it was again necessary to borrow money.

Mrs. Charles Lysell, who roomed in the house, and with whom Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Haskell had become friendly, volunteered to loan the necessary money.

An agreement was arranged by an attorney, and signed by Mrs. Lysell and by Mrs. Haskell, acting for the aged Mrs. Wood. The amount involved was $360, and the term of the loan is said to have been one year. It was through this agreement, and a series of involved legal proceedings covering more than a year, that the property was lost to Mrs. Wood.

The money borrowed from Mrs. Lysell, however, was not sufficient to meet the terms of the mortgages. Arline Haskell, who at one time was associated on the stage with Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, tried to help by raising money on her engagement ring.

"I cannot understand how it has all come about," Mrs. Wood said. "Perhaps it is legal, but it certainly is not justice that a $20,000 house should be taken in payment of a debt of $360.

"I want my home," Mrs. Wood said, tears streaming down her wrinkled cheeks. "Every cent I have in that house. And I earned every penny of it with my own hands. I am an old woman, but I'll not die until I regain my home."

Charles Lysell, who represented his wife in court, is a sailor, and at the time of the transaction, three years ago, is said to have been aboard on the yacht of a large real estate operator, a Mr. White. White is reported to have attended the hearings in Master's Court, although he took no active part in them.

Mrs. Haskell now declares she will make an effort to obtain a jury trial. With Mrs. Wood, she is of the opinion a jury verdict would be

PARENTS OF STUDENT CALLED

Girl Sweetheart of the Youth Slain by Hazers Also to Appear at Probe

Chicago, May 8.—Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Mount, parents of Leighton Mount, missing Northwestern University student, were the first witnesses ordered before the grand jury today in the investigation of the finding of a skeleton which has been identified as that of the youth who dropped from sight after a class rush in September, 1921.

Miss Doris Fuchs, to whom young Mount was attentive and who received a letter from him the day he disappeared, was among others in the list of more than one hundred subpoenaed to appear.

The grand jury first must decide whether Mount came to his death by violence. Should it reach that conclusion, Michael F. McKinley, chief justice of the criminal courts, will instruct it on further procedure and the law governing accessories before and after the fact.

Concerned with the investigation into Mount's death, as Northwestern University is a Methodist institution, the Methodist ministers of Chicago voted to conduct an inquiry of their own and appointed five members, who will report at a later meeting.

Robert Jamar, former student who was employed as a life guard along the pier where the skeleton was found, was questioned by State authorities and reports were he denied that the hole in the pier planking through which the skeleton was removed was there during the Summer months of either 1921 or 1922.

Timothy J. Fell, attorney for the Mount family, was questioned and at the conclusion both he and Assistant State's Attorney Gorman, who examined him, declared that the last note written by Mount to Miss Fuchs was "just a kid love note."

Previous reports stated that the note intimated Mount might end his own life.

PRISONER DREADS 'KIDDING'

Ashamed Because He Was Caught by Policeman Wearing Uniform

Young George Gray feels his position keenly. He admits, the police say, being mortified at the thought of being caught by a "harness cop."

It would be bad enough to be nabbed by a detective.

But the "harness bull" who gained him in is not to be sneered at—none the less than Patrolman John J. Gottschalk of Brighton station. He is the chap who brought in Bill Gray, so-called "King of the Stick Ups," two months ago. He yanked Bill Gray out of an automobile at Brighton and Commonwealth avenues on suspicion before Bill had a chance to start anything.

By coincidence, the man now under arrest is another Gray, first name George, alias Ray, twenty-six years old, of Tremont street, but no relative, so far as known, of Bill Gray.

Patrolman Gottschalk observed George going in and coming out of apartment houses along Commonwealth avenue in Brighton. Gottschalk trailed along.

Gray came out of No. 1262 carrying a satchel. Gottschalk closed up. Then, the police say, there was dialogue:

"What have you got there?"

"I'm a coat salesman. If you don't believe it, take me to the station."

"Coat salesman my eye. You busted in there."

"I guess you're right," Gray is quoted as having admitted. "Gee, this comes awful hard. The gang will kid the life out of me. It's bad enough to be caught by a plain-clothes man, but I never was caught in my life by a harness cop (patrolman in uniform)."

Gray was booked for entering the suite of Hal Somers at No. 1262 Commonwealth avenue and stealing a fur coat, other clothing and satchel.

200 SLAIN BY ITALIANS IN TRIPOLI

Rome, May 8 (By the Associated Press).—Fifteen rebels were defeated and 200 killed by the Italians in their latest operation in Tripoli, involving the occupation of an advanced point. It is announced in the official statement today covering the latest developments. The statement says:

"Our troops occupied Bertagemut, 60 kilometres south of Slimen and Misurata, after defeating 1,500 rebels, of whom 200 were killed. We also captured arms and munitions. Our casualties were 19 Askaris (native troops) killed."

An official report says the Italian losses included 119 wounded.

CABLE BRIEFS

Dublin—James Larkin, the labor agitator, recently deported from the United States, said today that he would not seek a seat in the Dail Eireann. He said the labor party should have demanded Free State action on De aVlera's peace proposal.

Rome, (By A. P.)—King George and Queen Mary of England today laid wreaths on the tombs of Italy's unknown soldier and of King Victor Emmanuel II and King Humbert.

DEMANDS KRUPP HEAD BE SENT TO PRISON

Werden, Germany, May 8 (By the Associated Press).—Counsel for the prosecution at the Krupp court-martial proceedings, summing up today, demanded a prison sentence of fifteen years in addition to a fine of 100,000,000 marks, for Baron Krupp von Bohlen, president of the works.

The prosecution also asked that a sentence of ten years and a fine of 100,000,000 marks be imposed on each of the three directors present at the trial. For the two absent directors counsel demanded a prison sentence of twenty years and the same fine.

A severe penalty was recommended for Herr Mueller, the factory councilman. The prosecution contended that Mueller was the organizer of the attack on the French detachment.

The French prosecutor, said that, just as the Krupp directors stood inactively at their office windows on March 31 and watched the workmen being shot down, so had German's war lords stood by and watched the burning of villages in northern France.

The prosecutor based his case against Baron Krupp Von Bohlen and the directors on two main points, first, that they had arranged demonstrations in case the works were occupied and had propaganda ready for circulation among the demonstrants; second, that they made no attempt to bring about order or shut off the factory sirens which called the men together.

Telegraph Briefs

New York—A resolution calling on Senator William E. Borah to be the progressive candidate for President in 1924 was adopted by the executive committee of the Committee of Forty-eight.

New York—Six men were arrested and a quantity of narcotic drugs and drug administering paraphernalia seized, when detectives raided the basement of a fashionable apartment house in West Forty-ninth street, near Fifth avenue. The apartment house is occupied by many persons socially prominent, including a Russian countess and a grand opera prima donna.

'LOST' COAST GUARD VESSEL ARRIVES

St. Petersburg, Fla., May 8.—The Q-15, U. S. N. Coast Guard vessel, which was reported lost at sea since May 5, dropped anchor in Baybor Harbor here late last night, after a rough time on the high seas, but at no time in serious danger.

BAKER LAUGHS CONFRONTING SLAIN BOY

Taunton, May 8.—Frederick Baker, ex-convict, will at once be formally accused of the brutal murder of twelve-year-old Arthur Seriva, if any attempt is made to bail him on the charge of assault on another boy on which he is now held.

This is the declaration of District Attorney S. P. Hall.

A blood-stained shovel and a brush hook, such as might have caused the cuts revealed at the inquest on the body of the child, have been found on the estate of James J. Donovan, Highland street, where Baker was working the day of the slaying.

2 BOYS ACCUSE.

Two more boys were taken to the police station and identified Baker as the man who approached them within the last two weeks.

Baker, himself, continues defiant. For twenty minutes he stood in the little parlor where lay in its casket the body of the mutilated Seriva boy, and gazed steadily at the features of the dead. Turning finally to the police who had escorted him to the home of the boy's parents at No. 52 Danforth street, he laughed loudly and declared:

"I never saw that kid in my life."

Rochester, Minn.—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the new animal experimental laboratory on the estate of Dr. C. H. Mayo. The loss is estimated at $150,000.

FILM BEAUTY TRIES NOVEL DOMESTIC PLAN

Hollywood, Cal., May 8.—Beautiful Florence Vidor, motion picture leading woman, and her young director husband, King Vidor, are living a domestic life far stranger than anything they have ever put upon the screen.

Their married life at present is an elaboration of the Fannie Hurst domestic philosophy, Mrs. Vidor admitted. The latter returned from Honolulu to Hollywood this week after a five weeks' "experimental separation" from her husband.

"Fannie Hurst said the happiest married couples were those who had breakfast together only twice a week and maintained separate establishments," said Mrs. Vidor. "That is the line along which King and I are working.

"I am living at our home in Fairfax avenue with Susan, our daughter, while King has his own quarters elsewhere. King has a forceful personality and wants to do big things in the film world. That, too, is my ambition. And two ambitions, two careers in one household, does not seem possible.

"A divorce pending? What a ridiculous question! There is no other woman nor no other man; there are no grounds upon which a divorce could be secured."

HARVARD BRIDGE ON FIRE FROM CIGARETTE

Harvard Bridge today demonstrated the fallacy of the old saying, "Fire third time ever falls."

For the third time within a few weeks fire was discovered on the bridge, but was extinguished by the Boston Fire Department at the cost of only $10 damage.

The blaze, starting on the Boston side, apparently from a lighted cigarette, burned a small hole through the planking. Traffic was not tied up and less than a square foot of planking was torn away by the firemen.

TEXAN SMASHES ALL DANCING RECORDS

Dallas, Texas, May 8.—Rosser J. Newman early today passed the previous Marathon dancing record of 122 hours and 38 minutes and kept on going. He received a telegram from the National Dancing Society in New York acclaiming his time as an official record.

1,200 YEARN TO STAR AS FILM FAVORITES

Bill Spooner, star cameraman of the W. W. Hodkinson Corporation of New York, today nurses a sore crank arm as the result of having made sixty screen tests in the Boston American-Hodkinson Corporation project of a "homemade" two-reeler to be filmed this week in Boston.

The sixty screen tests he made were selected from among 1200 applicants who stormed the lobby of the Park Theatre. Each applicant was given the expert once-over by Director L. R. Brager, who is to supervise the film, to be called "The Affairs of Lady Boston." The two-reeler will be a satirical version of "The Affairs of Lady Hamilton," now running at the Park Theatre.

MORE INTERVIEWS TODAY.

Another batch of applicants is being interviewed by Director L. R. Brager today between 9 a. m. and 11 a. m., in the lobby of the Park. A third batch will be seen tomorrow, and that's the last day for applicants to present the casting coupon printed in the Boston American.

Mr. Brager wishes it to be known that nobody will be considered as eligible for an interview unless this casting coupon is presented.

Over fifty persons are to be chosen for parts in the picture, as well as a large number of men and women for "atmosphere" stuff in some of the scenes.

No decisions have been made yet as to those who are to be given the principal parts. No decisions will be made until Wednesday noon. Then the various characters will be assigned to those who have been selected to play them, and work will start at once on the making of the picture.

Mr. Brager is to be the sole judge in the matter of selecting members of the cast.

No time is to be wasted. Arrangements have been made for the making of the interior sets in a local studio. Exterior scenes will be made in various parts of Boston and vicinity. The principals and those who will do parts will be transported about in cars to be furnished by Mr. Brager.

Rain or cloudy weather is the only thing that will hold up the start of the picture. It is planned to begin work on Wednesday afternoon, and to have the picture completed in time to show at the Park Theatre next Monday.

RARE OPPORTUNITY.

After the film has been shown here, it will be sent to New York, where it will be viewed by the directors of the Hodkinson corporation. Those who screen particularly well or show comedy possibilities may consider themselves fortunate, for the magnates of the movie world are ever on the alert to discover new talent.

This is your chance to get the best possible sort of a "break" in the movies.

Brager is confident that he will in this way discover another Jackie Coogan, Mary Pickford and Rodolph Valentino.

If you didn't present your application with the American's casting coupon, don't fail to do it today. Mr. Brager and his assistants will be on hand all morning in the lobby of the Park Theatre. Remember that more than two score parts need to be filled, and that there are plenty of chances for you to be one of those selected. You are not required to buy anything to see any picture in order to be considered.

"The Affairs of Lady Boston" will follow, in general detail, "The Affairs of Lady Hamilton," excepting that the treatment will be one of travesty.

A synopsis of the scenario of "The Affairs of Lady Boston" will appear in succeeding editions of the Boston American. Watch for it.

CRIPPLES 500 PHONES BY BLOW OF PICK

Five hundred residents of Jamaica Plain were cut off from telephone service because a workman jammed a pick through a cable at the corner of Union and Green streets.

The workman, one of several engaged in excavating there, pierced the cable and as mothers worried into the strands reports of trouble came fast.

Within a few minutes 100 lines were reported out of order and thereafter the number rabidly increased until the total of 500 was reached.

SCIENCE WILL REWRITE BIBLE IN MODERN WAY

New York, May 8.—Present day scientific, ethical and philosophical theories will be employed in rewriting the Bible "in the light of the twentieth century," it was announced today by the Tyson Lectureship Foundation, Inc., which was organized at a meeting of clergy, scholars and laity in the library of J. P. Morgan's home.

The modern interpretation will be carried to all parts of the country by the Rev. Stuart L. Tyson, honorary vicar of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. The lecture tour now is being arranged.

AIMS OF FOUNDATION.

The Foundation was incorporated "to make accessible to men and women in general the results of the research of modern scholars into the origins of the Christian religion and its interpretation, and particularly in regard to the Bible.

"The conception as a single inerrant volume equally inspired by the spirit of God, and altogether consistent and harmonious with every other portion, is an unfortunate inheritance from medieval Europe, which makes it impossible for a great many people to understand it at all, but modern, critical and historical research has given us back our Bible."

NOTED MEN IN IT.

"It is no longer an impossible book, full of moral and intellectual stumbling blocks. . . . Man is as 'humanly religious' as in former days, and is eagerly asking for a faith which shall be at once consonant with reason and verifiable in experience."

PAINTER BURNED, AUTOS DESTROYED

One man was severely burned and three automobiles were destroyed by a fire today in the two story brick building at No. 41 Stanhope street, South End. The loss is estimated at $5,000.

Henry Morois, foreman painter, who was at work on the second floor, was burned about the face and arms.

The blaze started on the second floor, apparently from a short circuit in an automobile. The building is occupied by Crossman's automobile paint shop and used car emporium, and is owned by Elizabeth Wiggins of No. 140 West Brookline street.

San Bernardino, Cal., May 8.—Weather reports of forty years for early May were broken when the temperature reached 101 degrees.

ADMIT BUYING PROTECTION IN HAVERHILL

Haverhill, May 8.—Who gets the graft Haverhill liquor sellers admit they pay for protection?

This is the question which has stirred the city and stunned the police department and which District Attorney Clark expects to answer in continuing the investigation into conditions in the police department which was today revealed as under way.

WORKS 2 WEEKS.

For two weeks a special investigator, posing as a liquor salesman, has been at work here.

He was told by the persons giving him orders that there would be no danger in getting the goods as protection had been paid for. The district attorney has made public part of his confidential report which reads:

"There is evidence of liquor sales in many places in the city of Haverhill and many rumors that protection is paid for, but when inquiry is made at the sources of this information it is impossible to get the necessary facts that would warrant action against the accused and suspected."

GRAFT RUMORED.

The present inquiry comes as the result of rumors of police graft prevalent for more than a year and especially since the establishment of the police dry squad in charge of the enforcement of the prohibition laws.

Policeman, who have served on this squad have been aware of the graft rumors in connection with their work and in answer have challenged investigation.

The district attorney, in announcing that the inquiry was by no means closed, declared that sufficient evidence for indictments and convictions before a jury was not yet at hand. He wants more definite evidence before going before the Grand Jury or initiating a Grand Jury investigation.

Among those known to have conferred with the district attorney in the course of his investigation have been Frank Smythe, Captain Irving G. Hussey and Joseph Moran, a reporter.

"Every Picture Tells a Story"

You Ought to Feel Fine in May!

But You Can't Be Happy When Every Day Brings Nagging Backache, and Finds You Tired, Weak and All Worn Out

Is that constant throbbing backache keeping you miserable? Do you feel old and slow; tired out and discouraged? Are you so lacking in strength and energy, you can't join the good times of friends and family?

Then you should be taking yourself in hand. May is too fine a month to be so miserable. You want to be well, and the first step to get well is to find out what is making you feel so badly.

Have you given any thought to your kidneys? Your health, you know, depends largely upon your kidneys. Without them you could not live a single day. When the kidneys weaken and fail to properly filter the blood, the whole system is poisoned. Your back aches, you are lame and stiff and suffer rheumatic pains and distressing urinary irregularities; your head aches, you are dizzy, and feel tired, nervous, irritable and depressed.

Don't wait for some more serious kidney trouble. Get back your health while you can. Delay may mean dropsy, gravel, or fatal Bright's disease. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills today! Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These Boston Folk:

DANIEL W. MOSHER, Blacksmith, 430 Frankfort St., East Boston, says: "I believe heavy work caused my kidney trouble. My back was lame and I couldn't bend. When I sat down it was hard for me to get up. The kidney secretions passed too frequently. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they gave me good results."

The above statement was given September 27, 1920, and on July 14, 1922, Mr. Mosher said: "Doan's have never failed to rid me of backache."

MRS. JOHN F. LINEHAN, 38 Fisk Ave., Somerville, says: "I had severe pains in the small of my back when I washed, and I could hardly get around. I tired easily and my kidneys acted irregularly. My ankles bloated badly, and I felt so dizzy I nearly fell over. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me of the backache and gave me strength. The bloating went out of my ankles and my kidneys were strengthened."

TWO-CENT GASOLINE TAX BILL REPORTED IN HOUSE

$5,000,000 REVENUE SOUGHT

Auto Interests of State Plan Bitter War on Governor's Measure

Governor Cox's bill providing for the collection of a tax of two pennies on each gallon of gasoline sold in the State for automobile and other motive power uses, exempting only gasoline propelled fishing vessels, has been reported in the House by the House Ways and Means Committee.

AGREEMENT DENIED.

The entrance of the bill marks the beginning of a drive by Governor Cox to save one of the most important of his inaugural recommendations and a bitter battle by the auto interests to send it down to defeat.

Gov. Cox

Auto interests throughout the State were chagrined today with the word that the Governor insists upon the two-cent tax. They understood they had reached an agreement with him that he would consent to a penny tax. They, in turn, had decided not to oppose the single-cent collection. Governor Cox then denied that any such agreement had been made. The present attitude of the Ways and Means Committee will bring a battalion of auto organization representatives from all corners of the State to wage the battle against the Governor.

FOR NEW ROADS.

It has been estimated that a two-cent tax will yield the State about $5,000,000 a year. One-half the income would be retained by the State, the other half being divided among the cities and towns. All of it would go to the building of new roads and the rebuilding of old highways.

Day Baker of the Truck Drivers' Association; William A. Thibodeau of the Automobile Legal Association; James Forestcue, J. H. MacAlman and James T. Sullivan of the Bay State Auto Club are among the leading auto representatives who expect to bear the brunt of battle against Governor Cox.

The House adopted an order asking the opinion of the Attorney-General as to whether an auto tax can be levied constitutionally.

SADIE MARTINOT DIES IN OBSCURITY

Watertown, N. Y., May 8.—Back in the '80's Sadie Martinot, beautiful of face and figure, was a petted favorite of the American stage. Today she is dead in her 61st year, passing in a room of the Ogdensburg State Hospital, the bareness of which was in striking contrast to the luxury of the surroundings of the heyday of her fame.

Only a few old friends of the host that once paid court to her charms knew of the losing battle she had fought all Winter against heart trouble.

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

"USE LIQUID ARVON"

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single scale and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

ETHEL M. JOHNSON

Assistant commissioner of labor and industry sees menace to home and children in increased number of married women workers.

WIVES AT WORK CALLED MENACE TO HOME

Home life in Massachusetts is menaced by the increasing number of married women employed in industry, according to Miss Ethel M. Johnson, assistant commissioner in the State Department of Labor and Industry. She was quoted upon the recent survey by the Women's Department of the National Department of Labor, and referred particularly to married women in unskilled occupations.

"In our industrial cities such as Fall River, New Bedford and Lawrence approximately one married woman out of four works in the factories or shops, and while the proportion in Boston is not so high, it is equally true here that women so employed cannot do justice to their homes and children.

"The one great reason impelling them to work is economic necessity. The old idea that most women work for 'pin money' is fallacious.

"In Greater Boston the number of all women so employed is 123,155, according to 1915 census, and in the State 593,374, according to the 1920 census.

"The increase has been marked from year to year. In Massachusetts 31.6 per cent. of all females over ten work outside the home. This is exceeded only by North Carolina and Rhode Island."

Plaids and Checks Feature of Spring Costumes

Paris, May 8.—Bring out the checkers ladies. Fashion designers on the Rue de la Paix are ordering stries and checks for Spring and Summer costumes.

They are not the loud and noisy checks, but quiet, subdued markings in contrasting tones to a plain jacket or blouse.

Lucille is showing a stunning red and brown striped mixture for a part walking costume worn with a little red leather belt and with little cross pieces in the back which make one think for all the world of old-fashioned suspenders.

Plaids are used for many of the new coats and costumes.

MUST REPORT FEVER AND MEASLES CASES

With deaths in the city from scarlet fever and measles showing an increase over the total in the corresponding period of last year, Dr. Francis X. Mahoney, Health Commissioner, notifies physicians and parents that such cases must be reported promptly and that isolation of patients must be put into immediate effect to prevent infection.

DENNISON ASKS BUSINESS AID P. O. REFORMS

New York, May 8.—The aid of business organizations in improving the nation's 43,000 postoffices was solicited today by Henry S. Dennison, president of the Dennison Manufacturing Company, at the annual convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Mr. Dennison advocated promotions which would eliminate the existing rule that a postmaster must be a resident of the city where he is appointed and would permit the advancement of competent officials from smaller to larger-salaried offices.

He advocated indeterminate terms for the Postmaster-General, asserting the average term has been three years, whereas "the most worthwhile projects must take nearly seven years to et into full bearing."

Another recommendation was that mail handling be distributed more evenly throughout the twenty-four hours. That business help establish the custom of sending large lots of matter directly from point or origin to railroad station, to eliminate unnecessary handling and congestion of postoffices.

An Aid to Wearing This Season's Fashions Use Delatone

(Helps to Beauty)

Here is a simple, unfailing way to rid the skin of objectionable hairs: With some powdered delatone and water make enough paste to cover the hairy surface, apply and in about 2 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every trace of hair has vanished. This is quite harmless, but to avoid disappointment be sure to get the delatone in an original package and mix fresh as wanted.

WARRANT FOR 'KING' PURNELL TO BE ISSUED

By Universal Service

St. Joseph, Mich., May 8.—A warrant for the arrest of "King Benjamin" Purnell will be issued within twenty-four hours, the authorities investigating the House of David indicated.

They had just heard the story told by Hilda Pritchard, pretty member of the cult and former inmate of "Shiloh," the royal abode.

Hilda testified that she had been victimized by Purnell and that the offense occurred three years ago. This would finally bring the case within the statute of limitations and permit action, the authorities said.

The apprehension of Benjamin, however, was regarded as problematical. The "King" has been missing ever since the investigation into the cult began, several months ago. He is believed to be hiding in Shiloh or in some nearby colony of the cult.

"—I owe her life to you...."

FIFTEEN-MONTHS-OLD Winifred Wick is so much admired in her community for her bright ways and her health, that her mother has written this story for the benefit of other mothers:

"Winifred almost starved to death the first two weeks of her life and when I found out I could not nurse her, I was worried to death. Most everyone who came in to see her, said I could never raise her on a bottle.

"Then I suggested to the nurse that she get a can of Eagle Brand Milk. She did—and it agreed with the baby from the start. She has had wonderful health and has had no trouble cutting her teeth. She is fifteen months old and has all her teeth, so no mother need worry about her baby not cutting her teeth early when fed on Eagle Brand. Our baby had her first two teeth at five months.

"I feel as though I owe Winifred's life to you. From the results I have had with Eagle Brand, I can heartily recommend it to any mother who is not able to nurse her baby."

Winifred Wick is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Wick of the Hotel Wick, Pittsburg, Kansas—a true product of the Sunflower State.

The message contained in Mrs. Wick's letter is one that has come into the Borden Company thousands of times. Eagle Brand Condensed Milk usually agrees with every baby because it is exceptionally digestible. Doctors frequently recommend it in difficult feeding cases for that reason.

Eagle Brand is nothing but milk and sugar—pure whole cow's milk, combined with sugar by a special process, which breaks down the hard casein of the milk, which is the indigestible part. Eagle Brand has the vitamins too—now known to be necessary for normal growth.

Mother's milk is best for babies, of course, but if you cannot nurse your baby, the Eagle Brand way is safe and sure. Eagle Brand is absolutely pure, sealed tight against dirt and germs. It is extremely convenient to use. You can buy it in quantity and have a supply always on hand, for it keeps indefinitely in the unopened cans. You can easily carry it about with you or buy it wherever you go, and thus avoid the dangers of changing the baby's milk. Doctors are insisting more and more on the need for keeping the baby's milk absolutely uniform. With Eagle Brand you can do this without the slightest worry.

Do you often feel you'd like to have a practical every day guide you could consult on the care of your baby? Baby's Welfare is just what you need. Send for your free copy today. The Borden Company, 85 Borden Building, New York.

EX-SUITOR CAN'T GET RINGS BACK, SAYS GIRL'S PA

Francis T. Manning of Boston is going to have a hard time getting back two rings which he gave to Miss Mary G. Moore of No. 738 East Third street, South Boston. At least, that is what Mary's father and mother say.

Manning claims he gave the rings to Miss Moore on the condition that she was to marry him. He says she broke off the engagement and left him without either rings or sweetheart. Manning has enjoined Mary from disposing of the rings and the matter will be aired in the Suffolk Superior Court on Thursday. One ring is valued at $400 and the other at $100, says Manning.

"Certainly he gave Mary the rings," said Mary's father. "And he will have a sweet time getting them back. When I was a young man we never asked for anything back that we had given to a girl. Manning must have been born on the first day of April if he thinks he is going to get those rings back." Mrs. Moore agreed with her husband in his opinions.

Mr. Moore declared that Manning came to the Moore home a week ago and slapped Mary's face and took her coat, watch and handbag. "I put him out then," said Moore. "I should have had him arrested. What is he raving about anyway? Mary has never engaged to him."

MAINE STUDENT THOUGHT DROWNED

South Bristol, Me., May 8.—A canoe, containing a lunch box and Mayflowers, found floating in the Damariscotta river, indicates that Paul Moody, seventeen, a junior at Lincoln Academy, had been drowned.

He was last seen when he left Pollin Lindsey, his companion, at the latter's home at New Castle, on the opposite side of the river. He was a son of Henry M. Goudy of this town.

Debutantes of Coming Season Interest Society, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN.

ALREADY society is "registering" interest in the debutantes of the coming season. Somehow, everyone is always eager to hear about the girls joining the bud battalion.

Prominent among the latter will be Miss Margaret Curtis, who sailed on a trip around the world with her mother, Mrs. Edwin U. Curtis and her pretty sister, Miss Penelope Curtis. The group began their long jaunt last Fall, and now, I believe, they are enjoying the mysteries of China.

Two Summers ago, when blonde-haired Clarissa Curtis became the bride of Prince Michael Cantacuzene, Penelope Curtis was among the bridesmaids attending her cousin. Apropos of Princess Clarissa, the latter, I understand, is to be part of the Summer with her mother, Mrs. Tom Curtis, at her place in Nahant, which is also the Summer home of Mrs. Edwin U. Curtis.

Miss Ellen Lovering, the bud-to-be daughter of the Charles Loverings, had the distinction of being one of the very few sub-debs to take part in the smart cabaret given recently for the Infants' Hospital. It was an affair calling out the most attractive of society's maids and matrons, either as flower vendors, waitresses, or dashing mannequins in Mrs. Lydia Codman's fashion show.

MRS. GEORGE PUTNAM
Prominent among the smart set matrons working for this or that worthy cause is Mrs. George Putnam.

THAT stately matron, Mrs. James Lowell Putnam, whose name still adorns the scroll of the Chilton Club here, though the Putnams now make their home in New York, was of the guests for whom Mrs. Newbold Morris gave a luncheon at Pierre's the other day.

Mr. and Mrs. Putnam, he's of the Harvard '92 class, are planning to sail for abroad shortly. They will probably spend part of the Summer in Venice.

MRS. BERNARD W. TRAFFORD and her daughter, Miss Leonora Trafford of Milton, went over to New York for the week-end to attend the wedding of Miss Melinda Trafford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry David Trafford of Short Hills, N. J., to Arthur Terry, Jr., the ceremony taking place in Christ Church, Short Hills. During their stay in Gotham, Mrs. Trafford and her daughter made their headquarters at the Hotel Lorraine.

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD P. MacNICHOL are to be of the Summer colony at Beverly Farms, where they have taken the Daniels cottage. The MacNichols, following their Winter at Santa Barbara, California, sojourned for several weeks at one of the Southern resorts before coming North.

MRS. HENRY S. ENDICOTT of Boston street, has taken Miss Fannie C. Mason's cottage at Pride's Crossing. Last Summer Mrs. Endicott occupied Mrs. John C. Howe's house in West Manchester.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

Edward Wyner has sold to Goodrich Inc. and 3000 square feet of land at Grimes the brick, tenement and one-half story property containing stores and apartments, together with 1,000 square feet of land at Nos. 457 Tremont street, corner of Gurney street. The consideration was $25,000, of which the land is taxed for $14,000.

The brick property at No. 17 Cortes street has been transferred by Daniel E. Holland to Irene P. Casas. The assessed value is $5,000.

Both of the above transactions were negotiated by Peter H. Aronis.

IN WEST ROXBURY.

The new single frame dwelling at No. 169 Corey street, West Roxbury, together with about 7000 square feet of land has been sold by Robert T. Fowler to Robert P. Hall, of Washington, D. C., who will occupy the premises when final transfer of title is made.

D. S. Williams has conveyed to Ezra S. Oswald, for investment, the single frame dwelling and garage at No. 86 Manthorne road, West Roxbury. The tax value is $5000. Robert T. Fowler was the broker in the transaction.

The modern two-family house and 4500 square feet of land at Nos. 341 Holland road, West Roxbury, has been sold by Andrew Hennessey, represented by Robert T. Fowler, to Maurice Strasser, represented by Melvin P. Hill. In connection with this sale, Mr. Strasser has bought a lot of land in the rear of his property, fronting on Prescott street. George Schirmer, trustee, was the grantor.

Title to the two-family frame dwelling at No. 4 Temple street, West Roxbury, has been transferred to Bridget E. Fleming by Louis Bartois. The West Roxbury office of Nicholas J. Murphy negotiated this transaction.

Another sale made through the office of Nicholas J. Murphy involved the single frame dwelling at No. 1454 Centre street, Roslindale, Harris Reuben conveyed to Willard G. Bemis. The total tax value is $6,500, of which $700 is on the 11,500 square feet of land.

A compliment for MRS. STEVENSON

The Wife—"Don't forget to be home early to-night, Bill. You know we're going to have dinner with the Stevensons."

The Husband—"Oh, that's right. I'd almost forgotten about it. There isn't any way we can dodge it, is there? . . . All right. . . . I'll make it as early as I can."

Three hours later, Mr. and Mrs. William Rogers were dining, for the first time, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stevenson. It was a merry party. There were no awkward pauses—no searching for subjects of mutual interest. Conversation came easily—there were good-natured quips about many things—from baseball to spring hats and babies. Bill Rogers was in an especially good humor. "To see him now," thought Mrs. Rogers, "you'd never think he wanted to dodge this dinner."

Promptly at eleven o'clock the Rogers said good-bye. "Had a fine time," said Bill to his wife on the way home in the car. "Wasn't that good Coffee? Made me feel at home right away. I honestly meant what I said to Mrs. Stevenson. She really is one of the few women—outside of yourself, my dear," he added diplomatically, "who knows how to make good Coffee. It's a great art. There would be far more compliments for wives and fewer husbands dodging dinner engagements if other women would use the same care that Mrs. Stevenson does in preparing her Coffee."

IS what those mysterious and all important substances known as vitamines—found in such rich quantities in milk—are called.

MOTHERS who know the importance of milk as food for the little tots often neglect the older children. They should have plenty of milk, too. For milk is the great energy and body-building food.

MAKE the first clause in your food creed "more milk." Drink more of it; eat more in foods made with and cooked with milk.

ALL hard workers, either with hands or brain, value milk as food. It gives strength and energy and is easily digested, either alone or when combined with other foods.

HUB'S 'IDEAL POLICEMAN' ON TRIAL

Patrolman Jacob T. Hall, of the Hexagon Crossing Station, known in the department as the "ideal policeman," was brought before a trial board at Police Headquarters on the charge that he was not present when a man, for whom he had secured a warrant, was brought into court to answer a larceny complaint.

Hall's defence was that he understood the hearing in the larceny case was March 27 instead of March 26. The trial board reserved decision.

Police Commissioner Wilson, in bringing Hall before a police trial board, said that he did so mainly to set an example for the remainder of the police force. Repeatedly, said the commissioner, justices of the courts have cautioned police officers and civilian witnesses to be on hand when their cases were ready for trial, and many times judges have threatened to dismiss the defendants for want of prosecution.

Last March Hall arrested a man for stealing some pipe and here and the case was continued. Later, another officer made two arrests in connection with the alleged theft.

The complaints being identical, all three hearings were continued to March 26. Hall was not present when the joint hearing was held and could not be found. The man Hall arrested was acquitted and the other two defendants were convicted.

Wilson telegraphed he would arrive wearing a red rose and she was to wear a white flower, so they would come by each other in the depot.

$15,000 BAIL FOR 3 MEN IN ROBBERIES

Three men arrested in connection with the attempted robbery of the payroll of the Wilkinson Upholstery Company, Brighton and Brookline, and whom police connect of burglaries in Back Bay, Boston and Brookline, were held at $15,000 each by Judge Murray in Municipal Court.

The men are: Samuel Kessler, No. 157 Hemenway street; Maurice Yarmofsky, West Cedar street, and Maurice Gorodetsky, No. 16 Harvard street, Cambridge.

Miss Margaret Carney, nineteen years old, No. 19 Madison street, was arrested in company with Kessler, and held as a suspicious person. She was released by police after an investigation.

Yarmofsky, a former employe of the concern, was familiar with the habit of Miss Mary Lennon, who carried the weekly payroll from the bank, wrapped in a newspaper. According to the police, he conspired with the other two men to rob her of the payroll.

DIVER FINDS BODY OF FIREMAN IN CAB

St. Johnsbury, Vt., May 8.—The body of Perley Emery, the Boston & Maine railroad fireman, whose engine plunged down a 20-foot embankment into the Connecticut River at Newbury Saturday, was recovered by a Boston diver. The body was removed to Emery's home in Monroe, N. H.

WOMAN FALLS 20 TWENTY FEET

Miss Bessie Young, thirty-five years old, a waitress, living at No. 295 Northampton street, South End, was severely injured when she fell from a roof at No. 673 Washington street, a distance of twenty feet. She was removed to the City Hospital suffering from multiple cuts and bruises.

Hair Torn Out

PAULINE GRANDE

Entering the East Boston police station with two handfuls of hair and one side of her head bruised, Mrs. Paulina Grande demanded that her husband, Joseph, be arrested. Grande was booked on a charge of assault and battery. Thursday was continued to enable him to obtain counsel. He is at present out on bail on a similar charge pending a hearing in the Superior Court.

HIGHER PAY FOR NEW BEDFORD CAR MEN

New Bedford, May 8.—The Union Street Railway Company of New Bedford posted notices today announcing a voluntary increase in wages, which will figure more than 10 per cent to the conductors and motormen. The increase which will affect about 300 men, brings the wages back to the peak level of September, 1920. The increase, which runs six cents an hour, will apply to all motormen and conductors, regardless of length of service. It advances men serving their first six months from 51 to 57 cents an hour, and those who have served five years or more from 56 to 63 cents.

BRITAIN SENDS SHARP NOTE TO RUSSIA

London, May 8 (By the Associated Press).—The British note which Ronald McNeill, Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, told the House of Commons had been sent to Moscow, is reported to be a strongly worded complaint against the discourteous treatment accorded the British protest in the Zeplnik case, seizure of the British trawler, James Johnson, off the Murman coast, and brusque treatment given the British agent at Moscow.

The Under Secretary said he understood "the Soviet Commissary of Justice was considering cancellation of the verdict against the captain and crew of the vessel."

Meanwhile, the British Communists have issued a manifesto calling for "councils of action" to prevent closing of the headquarters of the Russian trade delegation in London. "The first step to war," adding that the British government is leading "a capitalist offensive against the workers' republic of Russia as . . . they hate the Russian workers as they hate you, for they know the growth of trade with Russia means the strengthening of the workers' movement throughout the world."

The Independent Labor party is organizing a demonstration to be held in Trafalgar square next Sunday, at which several members of Parliament are said to have promised to speak.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

USE MULSIFIED

Make sure and prepared shampoos contain not much free alkali which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It is very cleansing and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Mulsified at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup of soap with a little warm water is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub the Mulsified cocoanut oil on it. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fluffy, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.

STAGE AND SCREEN

BOSTON SUNDAY AMERICAN

MOSCOW ACTORS OFFER RARE PERFORMANCE

By NICHOLAS YOUNG.

THE long delayed, but expansively heralded, Moscow Art Theatre took possession of the Majestic stage last evening and presented Tolstoy's "Tsar Fydor Ivanovitch," a play that tells a dramatic story of Russian court life of the sixteenth century.

Interest in the approach of these actor people from across the sea has been stimulated by reports of their brilliant efforts in New York, Chicago and Philadelphia, where critics almost fought among themselves in their search for new commendatory adjectives, and where an insistent public, completely ignorant of the language spoken on the stage, supported this acting art of Moscow with a responsive vigor never before accorded players from a foreign port.

SPEAR IN RUSSIAN.

At the Majestic last night you found yourself admiring actors whose words you could not understand. Following the play by the simple device of a brief synopsis in the program relieved some of the burden, but even this timely expedient was not entirely perfect.

The one impressive feature of the Moscow players was the fidelity with which the individual actor subordinated himself to the artistic needs of the ensembles. There seem no soloists was all team work of the highest order. "Tsar Fydor Ivanovitch" is not a play of short, terse dialogue, but one of various groupings of vast characters, and what proved to be the chief delight of the performance might easily have been one of its miseries had these players, by their training, followed the American style of stage direction instead of profiting by the many hours of discussion and rehearsal that was exerted when the curtains is at home. In any event the complete ensemble scenes presented a finished art of a kind and a fashion you felt sure could never be achieved by American players under the prevailing Broadway method.

GORGEOUS TREAT.

The outstanding feature of last evening's performance was Ivan Moskvin, who is possibly the most talented actor of the Moscow Art. His characterization of the feeble, vacillating Tsar Fydor attracted far beyond the bounds of fascination and made you forget Mr. Gest's little synopsis. Mr. Moskvin had a very nice evening.

In the matter of production "Tsar Fydor Ivanovitch" was a gorgeous treat to the eye. It ran largely to high tints of many assorted shades. Not a colorless show has ever been more colorful.

NEW VAUDEVILLE AT ORPHEUM

An extraordinary bill of vaudeville and fine photoplay production gave delight to large audiences at Loew's Orpheum Theatre yesterday. Moss and Frye, a pair of experienced entertainers, with a reputation for originality, gave an uproarious twenty minutes of fun with a skit called "How High Is Up?" "How Come?" James Nadison's and Dave Marion's "Boys of Long Ago" with some of the players who were most prominent a generation ago, were well received. The photoplay feature was a George Melford production, "You Can't Fool Your Wife," with an unusually clever cast, including Lenirose Joy, Nita Naldi, Lewis Stone and Pauline Garon. The story is one of absorbing interest. A fine comedy and a news pictorial were also shown.

"HOME, SWEET HOME" AT TONIGHT'S "POP"

On May 8, 1823, "Home, Sweet Home" had its first performance as a number in the opera "Clari," by Bishop, in London. This centennial will be observed at the "Pop" concert in Symphony Hall tonight by a special arrangement of the immortal melody made by Adolf Jacchia. The program follows:

Prelude to "Carmen" ..... Bizet
Overture to "The Merry Wives of Windsor" ..... Nicolai
Waltz, "On the Beautiful Blue Danube" ..... J. Strauss
Fantasia, "Puritani" ..... Bellini
Suite, "Intermezzo" ..... Tschaikowsky
Organ Solo, Processional ..... H. D. Sleeper
Lingerfeld
Overture to "Tannhauser" ..... Wagner
Selection, "Orange Blossoms" ..... Herbert
Volga Barcarolle ..... Arranged by Adolf Jacchia
"Home, Sweet Home" ..... Bishop-Jacchia

RURAL DRAMA GIVEN AT THE SOMERVILLE

Theatregoers have always shown a marked interest in old fashioned plays, and yesterday proved no exception at the Somerville Theatre when two audiences enjoyed "Hallowe'en Farm." This story of simple country people, Ann Hamilton as "Tildy" gave an agreeable impersonation of the leading feminine role. The other members of the company were not far behind in their characterization. Special mention may be given to Harry Bond, Peggy Shanor, Phillip Sheffield, Mrs. George A. Hibbard, Joseph Granby and Frank Thomas.

Talented Player

IVAN MOSKVIN

LOEW'S STATE IS RULED BY JAZZ

Jazz music ruled the roost yesterday at Loew's State Theatre yesterday when Paul Whiteman, "The Prince of Rhythm" orchestra gave afternoon and evening concerts under the direction of Alex Hyde. Playing many of the classics with a syncopated tempo, yet losing none of the melody, this organization of musicians was compelled to give repeated encores. The principal feature was Agnes Ayres in "Heart's Desire," in which she was supported by Theodore Roberts and Richard Dix. The comedy film was Buster Keaton in "The Balloonatic."

"BOZO" OPENS THE GAYETY FOR RUN

Enthusiastic matinee and evening audiences welcomed to the Gayety Theatre yesterday Barney Gerard's "Follies of the Day," with Tommy "Bozo" Snyder and Gertrude Hayes, Jr. These were the opening performances of a Summer run.

The cast of the show has been strengthened and the chorus shows some new faces. "Bozo" was a riot, if such term may appropriately be used for a silent comedian who gets all his laugh effects in pantomime. In his droll garb, which accentuates his comicalities, "Bozo" gesticulates himself into high favor from the start. His expressive features, particularly his infectious grin, were eloquent to a degree through his comedy business as dumb as King Tut himself has been for 3,000 years.

Gertie Hayes, Jr., ingenue and featured girl of the cast, scored big. Her singing and dancing were remarkable for youth and her charming personality added to her triumph. Harry Seymour, the Eskimo Pie Man; John H. Williams, comedian; Hunter, Cole & Hunter, trio; Bob Tolliver, the One-Man Jazz Band; Ethel Howard, prima donna; Bobby Clark, comedian; Bert Matthews, juvenile; Jimmie Plunkett, dancer, and Harry A. Watson, comedian, all filled their roles exceptionally well. Mme. Poulet's Parisian Pesours held the eye.

Plays That Remain

SHUBERT—Final week of Al Jolson in "Bombo." Popular singing comedian, ably proving himself the nation's best entertainer.

PLYMOUTH—"The Monster," by Crane Wilbur, who also acts in the play. The season's most exciting dramatic thriller.

COLONIAL—Mitzi in "Minnie an' Me." Clever musical comedy by Zelda Sears and several fetching melodies by Harold Levey.

SELWYN—"The Fool," by Channing Pollock. A serious play that sounds a timely moral while providing good entertainment.

HOLLIS—"Lightnin'" will enter during its three final weeks in Boston. The comedy everyone should see.

WILBUR—"Sun Showers," a summer musical comedy with Harry Delf. The music, book and lyrics are by Delf.

CASINO—Jimmie Cooper's Big Black and White Show. Summer burlesque with a number of special numbers and a performance tomorrow.

PARK—"The Affairs of Lady Hamilton," with Liane Haid, a fascinating photoplay of English official life in Nelson's time.

TODAY

borers on Hudson River brick barges get $1 per 1,000 unloading brick. A crew of six can unload 150 thousand, which makes $26 a day per man. Barge capitalists are asking for transfer to the labor crew.

Capital grows labor to stabilize itself, saying truly, that a disastrous end must come to pyramiding, wages and cost. Labor replies all right, we'll stop raising wages if you will help by cutting your profits on building and building materials. That strikes capital, of a certain type, as most unreasonable.

UNCLE JOE CANNON, celebrating his 87th birthday yesterday, sent this message to the nation: "Have faith in your government." In private conversation he would have added, but where you're personally interested don't let faith keep you from watching pretty closely what is going on. The little fellows take it on faith. The big fellows watch and put in their own men. That's what's the matter with the little fellows.

ANOTHER YOUNG old man is Edward Payson Weston, past eighty-four. He came into the office yesterday to announce his plan for a walk from Troy, N. Y., to Chicago this summer. I'll take it easily, said he, about 25 miles a day average. Nearly sixty years ago Weston's walking matches interested the nation. He said, to keep in good condition, sponge off every day with cold water, put a handful of rock salt in it.

THERE ARE many uses for flyers besides killing. Army machines should be used to fight mosquitoes, in their worst breeding places. They have been used in forestry work, scattering the seeds or forest trees. Farming and diseases fighting from the air will be an old story before the end of this century.

BARBOT, A FRENCHMAN, crossed from France to England and back, his flying machine using only half a gallon of gas in his fifty-mile flight, and winning a prize of 15,000 francs. That's important, it offers hope of solving the gasoline price problem. It ought to convince automobile makers that the time has come for them all to begin flying machine experiments. A year ago Henry Ford said he would not bother with flying machines until they became commercially practical. They are that now. Ford and others will soon fly on all journeys above fifty miles, to avoid the danger of travel at earth level. No grade crossing, no blind corners, no skidding. Plenty of room up in the air.

HABIT IS STRONG. A young man jumped to his death from a ferry boat, lighting a cigarette just before he jumped. He and his cigarette went out in the water soon after. A French King apologized to those about his bedside because he was such a long time dying. Let parents learn the value of right habits. There is nothing more dependable. If you can teach a child to eat slowly you add by that ten years to its probable length of life. Teach courtesy and you add 100 per cent. to the probability of business success.

A WALL STREET newspaper discovers that dirt farmers oppose a policy of isolation and loan toward the League of Nations. The discovery was made simply. Questions were sent to 91 farmers and their answers noted. Here's a sample question sent from innocent Wall Street to the guileless farmer: Do you believe that America should grant a credit to European nations for the purchase of American agricultural products? The farmers answered: Yes, 50 to 33, with 8 non-committal. Isn't that convincing? It's like asking a child, do you think I should give the cook money to buy molasses to make molasses candy for you?

CHINESE BANDITS derailed a train, seizing 115 odd white and yellow. Much excitement in newspapers, for the prisoners included Mr. Rockefeller's sister-in-law. Now she is freed and excitement subsides. What about the others not freed? Well, you can't expect a glorious republic to take in little people the interest they take in the sister-in-law of several hundred millions of dollars.

MELODRAMA IS HEADLINER AT KEITH'S

Real old-fashioned melodrama tops the bill at Keith's this week with a one-act spectacular offering entitled, "The Storm," but which might be more appropriately called "The Forest Fire," for such is the nature of the thrilling climax.

The stage setting of this act is a work of art, and represents a camp in the heart of the Canadian Northwest. The plot revolves around the love of two men for Manette Pachard, al of whom have been living out the Winter there. Comes the forest fire and Manette must decide which of the two shall go for relief. The illusion of fire is remarkable, and huge trees crash across the stage as the perils of one of the rivals is revealed and Manette is rescued by the other.

Manette, played by Nel Barnes, was unusually well done.

The eccentric acrobatic comedy, Charles O'Donnell in "The Piano Tuner," is without peer, and his stunts, in grotesque costume and facial expression, seemingly at risk of life and limb, were screamingly funny.

Sybil Vane, billed as the little Welsh prima donna, sang well and worked hard to please. She was assisted by Leon Domque at the piano, and he proved to be a pleasing act in himself.

Billy Wayne and Ruth Warren in "The Last Car," which, of course, they missed, drew laughs with every line, and interpolated eccentric dancing with merit. "A Ring Tangle" comedy play with music, was featured by the original work of Jack Henry and Edythe May.

Bert Gordon and Gene Ford in a "Recital Classique," were delightful with singing and dancing. Other acts were Irving Gosler and Rhea Lusby in "A Story in Song and Steps"; Harry Jolson, a blackface comedian, and Mary Gautier and company with a musical and dancing pony.

Week's Features

MODERN AND BEACON—Mary Carr in "The Custard Cup" and Shirley Mason in "Lovebound," a melodrama of New York life. Also news and comedy subjects.

BOSTON—John Gilbert in "The Madness of Youth"; also vaudeville headed by Vernon Stiles in an operatic program.

BEAUTY AND TALENT IN RARE COMBINATION

MILDRED KEATS

Al Jolson is not the whole show in "Bombo" at the Shubert—not completely—although he does absorb approximately 40 per cent. of the spotlight. There are times, however, when Mr. Jolson is required to make a change of costume, whereupon Mildred Keats steps lightly into the open glare and, with more than any one person's share of talent and plenty of good looks, she makes you forget that "Jolson" is the name that is flashed from the electric sign over the front door. Miss Keats was born in Portland, Ore., which is a long way from Boston, but being so far from home has not, apparently, diminished her gifts or lessened her good looks.

BRIEF REVIEWS

"Bombo"—Shubert. Al Jolson in a musical show that is a riot of color, melody and fun. Jolson is at his best and the show is a big success.

"Lightnin'"—Hollis. Frank Bacon in the comedy that has run for two years in Boston. Still a delightful entertainment.

"The Monster"—Plymouth. Crane Wilbur's thrilling play, with the author in the leading role. Well staged and acted.

"The Fool"—Selwyn. Channing Pollock's play of the Russian revolution. Well acted and staged.

"Mitzi"—Colonial. Musical comedy by Zelda Sears and Harold Levey. Pleasing entertainment.

"Sun Showers"—Wilbur. Musical comedy with Harry Delf. Tuneful music and clever comedy.

"Lady Butterfly"—Casino. Jimmie Cooper's Big Black and White Show. Summer burlesque with a number of special numbers and a performance tomorrow.

"The Affairs of Lady Hamilton"—Park. Liane Haid in a fascinating photoplay of English official life in Nelson's time.

STOCK COMPANY IN COMEDY AT ST. JAMES

"It Pays to Advertise!" If you don't believe it, take yourself up to the St. James Theatre and have Walter Gilbert, as Ambrose Peale, thoroughly convince you that the psychology of print, the power of suggestion, sensational advertising is the surest key to a money making proposition ever handed, especially when it comes to 13 Bone!

Holding the audience in a continuous uproar throughout the entire performance, equal thanks are due Adelyn Bushnell, Houston Richards and Mark Kent for the success. Their respective portrayals were flawless, as was that of Walter Gilbert, one of the most versatile performers in stock. The story winds itself around a father and son and an ingenious secretary—the trio all centered upon the son and his success in life, which is paid for by the father in cold dollars and cents.

While shows that when a man has just got to buckle down to business and make good or forced the choice of his heart—well you know when there is a woman in the bargain success is always bound to come. And so with the poor little rich boy. But enough said, the rest of the story is too good to tell. It has to be seen for itself.

Coming Plays

"Lady Butterfly," an Oliver Morosco musical play, is announced as the attraction at the Shubert beginning next Monday.

"The Brat" will be the attraction at the St. James next week.

"Westbound Limited" a mystery of railroad life, will be shown at Tremont Temple beginning next Monday.

"The Rise of Rosie O'Reilly" will move into the Tremont on Monday, May 21st. It is a George M. Cohan show.

A new Metro film, "Souls for Sale," will be shown at Loew's State Theatre next week.

State Ballroom

Further evidence of the enterprising character of the management of the State Ballroom lies in the announcement that, at the regular dansant to be held next Thursday evening Paul Whiteman's famous "Prince of Rhythm" orchestra, with the youthful Alex Hyde as its director, will appear for a special dance concert at 10 o'clock.

DONAHUE BACK AT TREMONT IN "MOLLY"

People with weak lungs and heart—stay away from the Tremont Theatre.

For when Jack Donahue, comedian extraordinary, starts into action with his laughing feet in "Molly Darling," the laughs just have to come and come fast. He has been called the funniest man in the world. Doubting Thomases are invited to give Jack a "show up", and if they don't agree with the originator of that bouquet something is wrong with them.

"Molly Darling" came back to the Tremont for a two-weeks' return engagement. It lost nothing by its former appearance.

The show is a musical comedy in every sense of the word. A bevy of pretty girls, supporting the principals, is not the least of the attractions and they fitted into Mr. Donahue's scheme of things very readily and appropriately.

Mary Milburn, Clarence Nordstrom, Jay Gould, Catherine Mulqueen, Nina Dawn, Billie and Billy Taylor, Ben Benny and Burke Western, furnish their share of entertainment, and they all won plenty of applause.

POPS OPENING IS BRILLIANT OCCASION

By ZOE FABER

Tinkling ice, bright colored drinks, sandwiches and clouds of smoke helped to make the opening night of the Pops the outstanding success that the very large audience voted it. In the enforced absence of Mr. Jacchia, his place was filled by Jacques Hofmann, whose work was very evidently the marked pleasure of the audience.

Mr. Jacchia had set for the evening a program that was well balanced and exhibited well the taste of the varied crowd that flocks to the concerts. Mr. Hofmann did full justice to the music in hand and added to it several that were popular. Among these, one neard with increasing delight, Schubert's "Moment Musical," the "Valse Bargeman's Song," "Tarantelle" by Jacchia, Grieg's "Death of Ase," and others.

Mr. Sleeper tonight is the second annual Smith College program with the feature number an organ suite played by Professor Sleeper. The public, as always, is welcome.

If last night is any barometer, this season of the Pops will equal, if not supercede others in resonse from the public.

WAGE INCREASE FOR 22,000 BY STANDARD OIL

Chicago, May 8.—An advance in wages amounting to $2,500,000 a year and affecting 22,000 employes of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, granted by the board of directors of the company on the theory that the existing economic situation warranted it, was announced today.

An increase of five cents an hour effective May 26 will apply to a great majority of the employes working in refineries of the company who are on an hourly basis.

Employes on a salary basis, the announcement stated, will have an adjustment of their salaries July 1.

Nemesis of Speeders Himself Fined for Fast Driving

Washington, May 8.—Judge Robert Hardison, noted for punishing auto speedsters, was himself arraigned in court as a speedster.

With two attorneys and a court bailiff he was held up at Rockville, Md., by policemen, and at the county seat paid a fine of $7 on a charge of overspeeding.

ICE BREAKING UP IN YUKON RIVER

Dawson City, Y. T., May 8.—The ice in the Yukon River began to break up today and navigation probably will be opened in a few weeks. The last mushers over the river ice from distant points reported extremely hazardous trips. They sold thousands of caribou lined the trail near Dawson.

MRS. BUTLER'S FESTIVAL SET FOR MAY 12

To thousands of Bostonians young and old, the only May fete that counts is that upon which falls Mrs. W. S. Butler's May Festival, which has become a Boston institution, an which occurs at Mechanics Building on Saturday afternoon and evening.

It is expected that the festival of 1923 will eclipse, in many ways, those which have preceded it.

Among the very attractive numbers on the program are a Tyrolean dance, which depicts "The Love Making of the Black Cock," one hundred tots, ranging in age from three to eleven years, in a carnival dance; specialties by Viola Jones, Priscilla Halloran and Dorothy Williams, and by Flora Jones and Madeline Hutchinson; the Orchid Ballet by fifty ballerinas in tarleton and dances by Edith Carmen of Dorchester.

Then there will be the elaborate Peer Gynt number with some one hundred characters, and an Italian Tarantella dance by sixty boys and girls; a South Sea Idyl, introducing characteristic dancing, and the Dragon Fly quartet, not to mention many solo dances and characterizations.

BOY'S STORY OF ATTACK A HOAX

Eleven-year-old David Ring of No. 436 West Fourth street, South Boston, who was found unconscious at Thomas Park, South Boston, Sunday night, has confessed to the police that his story that he was clubbed by a strange man was but a hoax. The youth explained that he had been absent from his home all day and had feared to return. David, who is subject to fainting spells, said he collapsed while playing in the park and fell to the walk.

LAUNCH CANADIAN RACING CONTENDER

Chester Basin, N. S., May 8.—The schooner S. H. Hirtle, which will be given a tryout in the elimination for the Canadian challenger for the International Fishermen's trophy, was launched. She will be sailed by Captain Heisler, who helped the Bluenose in several races.

$2,500 BLAZE IN FRANKLIN STREET

Damage estimated at $2,500 resulted today when oily waste thrown into a barrel in the basement of the four-story brick building at the corner of Congress and Franklin street, ignited.

The fire was discovered by Charles Coulter when he opened the door of the basement. Quick work on the part of firemen confined the blaze to that part of the building. The first floor is occupied by the Chadwick-Boston Lead Company. Had the flames reached this floor a serious fire might have resulted as the stock included a large amount of oils and paint.

WANT TREMONT TEMPLE SAVED FOR RELIGION

Dr. J. C. Massee, pastor of Tremont Temple Baptist congregation, today reiterated his desire to see the use of the Temple auditorium restricted to the religious and benevolent activities of evangelical societies.

"It is something I have had in my heart and mind for some time," he said.

The society receives a large income from the use of the auditorium and halls by motion picture exhibitions, political rallies, concerts and various other non-religious activities.

Dr. Massee, who took charge of the parish a year ago, would sacrifice this material advantage in the belief that there would be a spiritual gain if the temple were dedicated strictly to religious and benevolent uses, and these only under evangelical auspices.

During Dr. Massee's pastorate the church has gained 239 members, making the total membership 3,015. This figure has been reached but once before since the establishment of the society.

MAY CALL LYNN MEN IN FARRAR SUIT

"Success, love—Tellegen," is the legend inscribed on a bouquet received by Geraldine Farrar when she appeared in a Lynn theatre some time ago, according to two Lynn newspapers.

Therefore, the newspaper men may be called as witnesses in the Farrar-Tellegen divorce case.

Tellegen denies having sent the flowers as a silent message of love or anything else. He says he didn't send them at all.

50 for Triplets; Twins $20; New Babies $10

New York, May 8.—Ten dollars a baby, $20 for twins and a special bonus of $50 for triplets. This is the standing offer of the Washburn Wire Company to its 700 employes.

Already 220 male employes of the Washburn Wire Company have successfully claimed the bonus, in behalf of their wives. Nine married women employes have received the $10. There have been four cases of twins, but as yet none of triplets.

RISH EMIGRATION TO U. S. HAS CEASED

Dublin, May 8.—Irish emigration to the United States has ceased, the American consul who has 2,000 applications for passport visas, says. No more will be issued until June 30, as Ireland's quota is filled until that time.

GANG CHIEF IS IS HELD IN MURDER

New York, May 8.—William J. Lovett, thirty-year-old leader of the White Hand gang in Brooklyn, was arrested today on a charge of homicide in connection with the death of Timothy Quilty, shot in a York street saloon May 2.

Lovett "got hot" a couple of months ago. Found unconscious in a shack, with a half-dozen bullet wounds in him, he was rushed to a hospital, where doctors patched him up, but were unable to extract two of the bullets, and said he would die within six months.

Asked to name his assailants, Lovett said:

"Never mind, I'll attend to that."

LEARY TO ADDRESS NO. QUINCY COUNCIL

Dr. Timothy Leary, medical examiner for Suffolk County, will deliver a talk to members of North Quincy Council, K. of C., tonight at Poland's Hall, Norfolk Downs. He will relate some of his experiences. Dr. Fred E. Jones, medical examiner for Quincy, Chief of Police Alfred W. Goodhue and other Quincy officials have been invited.

Mothers—
After play, see that the hands, faces and bare knees of your children are antiseptically cleansed by the rich, creamy lather of Lifebuoy which combats the germs ever-present in dirt.

The Terrible Menace of Dust

DUST is not soil—not honest dirt or sun-purified sand of beaches.

Dust is the carrier of contagion—millions of invisible enemies to health.

It is this terribly dangerous dust that is smeared over the faces and hands of your children when they return from school; that is ground into their little bare knees—that is clogging the pores of their bodies and exposing scratches to infection.

Lifebuoy is "First Aid" for Scratches

Mothers are health doctors

Is it any wonder that you Mothers—you family health doctors—fear dirt and drive your children to the wash bowls at every opportunity?

But surely you must recognize the need of a soap which really combats these lurking dangers of dust.

Children need greater protection than is afforded by ordinary soap. They need Lifebuoy Health Soap.

It combats dangerous dirt

What is Lifebuoy? Wherein does it differ from common soap? Why is it probably the most widely used toilet soap in the world?

Lifebuoy, first of all, is pure—as fine and bland as any soap ever made. It is gratefully soothing to the skin. Its creamy, wholesome lather comes from rich oil of palm-fruit and from skin-nourishing, free-lathering cocoanut oil. There is not a trace of free alkali! Lifebuoy is a perfect baby soap—a wonderful restorer of complexions to clear, glowing health.

The wholesome odor

But the protective element of Lifebuoy is indicated by the odor—the cleanly antiseptic odor.

You quickly come to like the odor which vanishes in a few seconds leaving the skin deodorized. The protection remains.

Daily, regular use of Lifebuoy will protect your entire family. It will keep the skin of everyone in fine healthy condition—soft, smooth, purified and sweet.

Buy several cakes and put one wherever there's running water.

See how quickly your husband and children come to prize Lifebuoy for its copious stimulating lather. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

The color of pure, unbleached palm-fruit oil is red—so Lifebuoy is RED.

FIGHTING PARSONS SCORE PACIFISTS

The "Fighting Parsons" at their conference in the Commonwealth Hotel condemned the "half-baked pacifism" of the strong advocates of peace.

They thought that the best preventative against war was to be prepared for it. Rev. George W. Lawson, pastor of the Union Square Baptist Church, Somerville, said: "What we desire is to make war impossible. Merely saying that we must not have it, does not go far enough."

SKIN TROUBLES

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

Now Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Washington, D.C.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which a physician said I would have to have for a very bad case of female trouble. My system was all run down for two years after my little girl was born. Then I read of your wonderful medicine and decided to try it. I could hardly drag one foot after the other, and after taking six bottles of the Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman. I now do all my housework, also washing and ironing, and do not know what real trouble is. My health is fine, and I weigh 140 pounds. When I started taking it I weighed 97 pounds. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any one who is suffering from female trouble or is run down. You may use this testimonial for I am only too glad to let suffering women know what the Vegetable Compound did for me."—Mrs. IDA HEWITT, 1629 Penns. Ave. S.E., Washington, D.C.

Such letters from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Where none but QUALITY MERCHANDISE is allowed

An Apology for the present disturbed conditions caused by alterations and the moving of sections

A Promise of greatly increased conveniences and more spacious sections, thus making for better service and more comfortable shopping

The extensive alterations now in progress throughout the Store have been made necessary by the phenomenal growth of our business. We ask the kind indulgence of our patrons for any inconvenience they may experience while changes are being made—and earnestly thank them for their patience during this period.

Such extensive alterations cannot be made in a day, nor can they be accomplished without the presence of many cabinet makers, carpenters and floor layers—but every change will be an improvement.

Some of the changes already made and others that will be made shortly:

—Women's Hosiery formerly on the fourth floor has been brought down to the centre of the street floor and given much more space than before.

—A New Sports Shop for Misses on the third floor is ready to supply everything from hat to shoes for out-door activities.

—The entire Summer Street side of the third floor is given over to Misses' and Children's Shoes—the largest section of this kind we know of anywhere.

—A closer grouping of Boys' Clothing, Hats, Shoes, Furnishings, Hosiery and Underwear will add greatly to the convenience of shopping—third floor.

—White Goods, Embroideries and Flannels have been removed from the fourth floor to the street floor, thus bringing all yards goods sections together on this one floor.

—Wash Goods and Woolen Dress Goods are given larger quarters on the street floor by extending into the space formerly occupied by Men's Clothing.

—The Silk Section has been given considerably more space on the street floor.

—Greatly enlarged space will be devoted to the street floor Pattern section, made necessary by the popularity of both Pictorial and Vogue Patterns.

—The Smallwares Section is to benefit by an increase of fully 25% to its present large space on the street floor.

—A larger and better arranged Costume Section with plenty of fitting rooms will be a feature of the second floor.

—The opening later on of a New Sports Shop for Women is planned for the second floor.

—There is a new parlor on the third floor for Misses' Dresses of the better grade.

—There are enlarged sections, with plenty of fitting rooms, on the third floor, for Misses' Dresses of the medium and inexpensive grades.

—A separate and distinct section for Boy and Girl Scouts will be found on the third floor.

—Much larger sections have been given to Misses' Corsets, also Misses' Blouses and Misses' Sweaters on the third floor.

—The new Women's Shoe Section on the fourth floor, when completed, will be second to none in this country.

—The inexpensive Dress Section will be on the fourth floor and will have the double advantage of a flood of daylight and plenty of fitting rooms.

—Aprons, Maids' Dresses and Nurses' Uniforms are to be given more commodious quarters on the fourth floor.

—There will be an enlarged section on the fourth floor devoted to Women's Negligees, Kimonos and Bathrobes.

—The better grades of Linens will be given a section by themselves separate from the other linens—fourth floor.

—The fourth floor sections devoted to Art Embroideries and Yarns are being enlarged.

—Puffs and Blankets are to have a beautiful new section near their present location on the fourth floor.

—More room will be given to Silk Petticoats on the fourth floor.

The removal of Men's Clothing, Youths' Clothing, Automobile Clothing, Men's Hats and Men's Shoes to THE STORE FOR MEN, where they have been merged with the similar sections of the former Shuman Store, has already been announced in our advertising—but a more detailed story of changes and improvements there will be told later on.

Incidentally it has been necessary to add two stories to our Furniture Building, giving to this structure all the height the building laws of our city permit—one hundred and twenty-five feet.

Our Constant Ideal is toward betterment, to make our store year by year a more and more comfortable and enjoyable place to shop, more worthy of its proud heritage—the Home of Quality Merchandise and Good Service.

LUIS FIRPO DISPLAYS TREMENDOUS PUNCHING POWER

HEAVY BLOWS WRECK SPARRING PARTNERS

By JACK CONWAY

New York, May 8.—Luis Firpo hailed as another Jeffries, is rocking skyscrapers with the air currents caused by his pondarous punches as he prepares himself for his ring battle with Jack McAuliffe 24 hours hence, which will be staged as part of the great Mike Fang show at the Yankee Stadium on Saturday afternoon.

Firpo will have more trouble winning against McAuliffe than he did when he batted Bill Brennan. The latter was hog-tied and very slow. He was an ideal target for the Argentine fighter's heavy blows.

THE POPPY PERIL

By LAUCHLIN JAMES

An Eye-Opener Romance in Which Is Depicted the Horror of What Drugs Do to Hollywood

BEGIN THIS STORY NOW

Two days after Kerry Rowan, a noted motion picture director, had visited the offices of the District Attorney in Los Angeles Rowan is found shot to death in his home, with a bowl of poppies scattered on the floor beside him. Rowan has given much information whereby the drug evil in Hollywood might be attacked and had promised to risk death by testifying against those caught in raids, for the sake of a clean Hollywood and because of his sincere affection for a young film star. Then, swing back to Ireland years earlier, where we meet Kenneth Royce, just out of college who goes to China as secretary to Sir Charles Aylsmere. Here he visits opium dens. While in China Kenneth meets Lily Waite, a "Dresden china doll," but discovers Lily's father is a morphine addict and card sharp. He comes to New York, is employed in a "Far East" shop and eventually meets Carra Leyton, to whom he presents a Japanese dagger. Carra is found stabbed with the dagger in Chinatown with a deck of hop in her bag. Following Carra's death Kenneth disappears from New York and turns up at Skagway, Alaska, under the name of Kerry Rowan. In a voyage to Honolulu the ship is wrecked by the storm, who is under the influence of dope. He shoots himself as the ship goes down. Rowan goes to Hollywood, where he becomes a movie director.

The "Black Panther"

WHEN the Klondike story had been filmed, Denison Blair came to Rowan and said, "I hear they're giving you a picture. Pretty good for a stock actor who's been less than six months in the business. I congratulate you."

The words in themselves were cordial enough, but Rowan was not deceived by them. Underneath the congratulations he sensed a deep feeling of resentment. From that day forth he knew that Blair might be polite to him, perhaps, but never friendly.

Paying Experience

In the months that followed, Rowan came to appreciate how shrewd an estimate Peter Fitch had placed upon his capabilities. As picture followed picture, each a little better than its predecessor and each adding something to his rapidly growing reputation, he realized that his entire career had been an ideal course of preparation for the position he now held.

His life in New York, his knowledge of its people and its ways, all of which he had placed so resolutely behind him, now became a source of inestimable assistance to him in his work. His experience with Wadleigh Baron rendered dependence on an art director for his pictures quite unnecessary.

His service in the mounted police and on the battlefront; Barrington Moyer's anecdotes of the stage; even old Phil Cronin's tales of the sea and of the underworld; everything, in short, with which he had come in contact now united to form a fund of information that aided him at every turn.

So far as his present associates were concerned, his past remained a secret. No one had as yet appeared who had known him by another name.

As Kerry Rowan he had become a new man, a new personality, living in a new world and finding great contentment therein.

With the marvelous capability of his race, he straightaway entered upon his duties as cook, valet and general factotum, making no secret of the fact that if it was agreeable to Rowan he meant to be his servant for the rest of his life.

Directly following the success of his first pictures, Rowan began to find himself in possession of a surprising number of friends. The majority of these were persons whose friendliness had remained up to that moment a matter they had managed to keep to themselves, and the sudden increased calm for his society afforded Rowan considerable quiet amusement. He commented upon this manifestation to Peter Fitch one afternoon in the latter's office.

"Yes, the man with jobs to give at is always popular," observed the general manager, "but I guess you're wise enough not to let it go to your head. I'd hate to see I do to you what it's done to some directors I know of."

"No fear," laughed Rowan. "It's a bit too transparent. Pyrrha Chandler has been making herself particularly agreeable of late."

"Yes, she would. There's one little lady who needs no assistance when it comes to looking out for number one."

Pyrrha Chandler was a knowing young woman who already had made something of a reputation for herself in roles which called for "vamp stuff." She was clever, in a free and easy fashion, and had been blessed with a certain bold, exotic brand of good looks that made her undeniably attractive.

Her hair and eyes had the gleaming quality of jet, and this combined with the feline languor of movement which she affected before the camera had quite justified the press agents in christening her "The Black Panther."

Pyrrha had been one of the first to foresee a future for Rowan in this new profession and had lost no time in making an effort to interest him to whatever extent his susceptibilities might make possible. Rowan had accepted numerous invitations to her home —where she lived with an unobtrusive old woman believed to be her aunt—and in return he had taken her about with him to the beach resorts, to hotel dances and to the theater.

The Old Trouper

"I find her an interesting study," he told Fitch. "It's amusing to watch how she tries to live up to her screen reputation; the way she dresses; and the way she has fitted up that house of hers. She's good fun, too, and her friends are a lively lot even though they're not gifted with an over amount of intelligence. Of course, I think she's as hard as flint underneath, but for one's frivolous moments she's very good company."

A friend more to Rowan's liking than most of his new ones turned up at about this time in the person of Barrington Moyer, recently returned from a complete tour of the world.

The meeting between the old trouper and his former leading man was the occasion for a genuine celebration. Rowan had him up to his bungalow for dinner on the day of his arrival and Tin Moy was instructed to show what he really could do when it came to turning out something fancy in the way of a two-man banquet. Each of the banqueters had a world of things to tell the other and their reminiscences lasted until well past midnight. It was 2 o'clock in the morning when they were surprised by a summons from the telephone bell.

To the Rescue

"Oh, Kerry, is that you?" Pyrrha Chandler's voice inquired, in tones of great agitation. "I hate to disturb you, but some man with a load on has been trying to get into my front door. He's still hanging around, and I'm frightened. I think it's Royal Sackett, or I'd call the cops. I don't want to get him into any trouble. Won't you be a darling and come and take him away?"

"What's up?" asked Moyer as his host left the telephone.

"Nothing serious," said Rowan. "Get your hat. Some young buck with a skinful of liquor is scaring the most dangerous vampire by trying to break into her house. Come along. She lives just a few doors from here. We'll send the intruder on his way and then I'll walk back to the hotel with you."

As they left the bungalow, at a lively pace, Rowan and his friend encountered Benny Alton, Fitch's publicity director, returning home from a nocturnal poker game.

"What's coming off?" he hailed them.

"Man trying to force his way into Pyrrha Chandler's front door," replied Rowan. "She's just telephoned."

The press agent faced about and dropped into step with them.

"But doesn't he realize his peril?" he marvelled, with mock anxiety. "Isn't he aware of the spirit she casts over men? Hasn't he read that her boudoir is pervaded by a perfume of enchantment and that the sheets on her bed are of scarlet silk? Where does this boob come from, anyway, that he tries to force the doorway to destruction?"

The Praise Agent

"Maybe he has the wrong house," suggested Rowan, adding, "Mr. Moyer, let me make you acquainted with Benny Alton, praise agent extraordinary. Benny is largely responsible for Miss Chandler's reputation as a wrecker of lives."

"I can see the headlines in the paper now," said Benny, acknowledging the introduction with a smiling nod, "Rash Ma... Tries to Force Way Into Lair of Black Panther,' and the story will begin:

"'Picking his way among the corpses of the men who had committed suicide on Pyrrha Chandler's front porch during the day, a venturesome stranger last night attempted to force an entrance into the famous film star's Circean castle.'

"I only wish there was time to wake up a policeman some place and get him over here to back the story up for me."

"That's just what she's trying to avoid," Rowan informed him. "She thinks the man is Royal Sackett. I don't see any one at her front door now, though." They were approaching the "Circean castle" and to all appearances its yard and porch were quite deserted.

FOXY GRANDPA STORY

HOW ROGERS SAVED HIS MASTER

YES, my young naval officer friend—the nice lieutenant your mother met last year—will soon be coming in on his ship from the Southern drill grounds and when he does I'll take you on board and introduce you to him and the best shipmate a man ever had, Rogers.

Rogers? Is he a lieutenant, also? No, my dears, Rogers is the lieutenant's dog—a fine, big, white English bull-terrier, and once he saved his master's life.

This is how it happened:

The lieutenant was very fond of hunting, so when his ship was anchored off the north coast of the Philippines he and some of his brother officers took off their uniforms, put on old hunting clothes and went in a small boat to one of the islands to hunt.

Of course, Rogers went with the lieutenant. He always trotted along wherever his master went.

When they got on the island the lieutenant said to his friends:

"Now, we'll all separate and go in different directions. In this way we ought to find more game. Then before sundown we'll meet here to go back to the ship."

So the lieutenant started off, gun over his shoulder and Rogers trotting along by his side. They had a great day hunting. In the afternoon they sat down to rest, and suddenly Rogers pricked up his ears and looked up at his master.

There, through the tall brush, they saw some spears and before they knew it they were surrounded by a group of savages.

Then the savages all put their heads together and mumbled and shouted and danced up and down and the chief laughed as he said:

"You bad man, but make good eat. We like eat you."

"No," pleaded the lieutenant. "I officer in United States Navy."

He was getting pretty nervous by that time, but felt a gleam of hope when the spokesman asked:

"How I know you U. S. sailor?"

The lieutenant faltered and just then Rogers barked.

The lieutenant leaned over and pointed to the inscription on the dog's collar, which read: "U. S. S. Oregon."

Although the head hunter was a savage, he had been in some of the towns and knew what U. S. S. meant. He had also seen it on the American sailors' uniforms. The chief did not look so fierce now, but asked:

"How I know he your dog?"

With that the lieutenant said:

Sit up Rogers." And up Rogers sat.

"Roll over, Rogers," and over Rogers rolled.

The savage-looking chief murmured something to his companions, and then shook his head wisely and grumbled:

I tell you it didn't take the young lieutenant and Rogers long to run back to the boat, where they met their friends, and I assure you they beat all records rowing that boat back to the big battleship.

Screen Version Novelized

Fortunately the night continued clear. Bill Peck felt the cold rush of the night air and his teeth chattered, but he thought of only one thing. He had to catch that train, stop it, and deliver the blue vase to Cappy Ricks.

On and on through the night over villages and farm houses, over hills and valleys following the thread of road by compass.

A wild cry from Bill, unheard in the roar of the airplane engine. "There she is."

Jack Evans' eyes had not missed the train. He had been making better time than he had hoped. The black smoke of the locomotive lit with the glow of phosphorescence showed him where the speeding object of their search was rushing South below them.

On and on past the train and then out of the noise and whirring a sudden silence. They were sweeping toward earth.

Bill Peck tried to stretch his stiff limbs; his eager eyes peered down into the dark; swiftly as though the earth were being lifted toward them lights flashed into view.

"We're taking a chance," yelled Bill, "there's a big meadow over there to the right of the track—we're going to land there."

They came down without accident. The big machine settled as calmly as though it were used to making stops here, there and anywhere.

"Out with you," called Jack, "limber up a bit—we've got work to do."

"You bet your life, Jack—the express will be along any minute now—got any spare gas?"

"You said it—and a fine rag too—"

The rag which was the size of a big flag was soaked in the gasoline attached to a long pole and held in readiness.

Not far away the whistle of the express came ringing through the air.

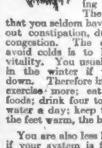
This Will Ward Off And Break Up Colds

Just a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin removes the congestion

THE two ailments that people generally regard as of the least importance are in reality the cause of most serious illnesses and of the greatest proportion of deaths.



They are constipation and common colds. Many doctors now believe that colds, tonsilitis, a touch of malaria will cause constipation, instead of constipation being their cause.

The fact remains that you seldom have a cold without constipation, due to general congestion. The only way to avoid colds is to keep up your vitality. You usually catch cold in the winter if you are run down. Therefore in cold weather exercise more; eat more fatty foods; drink four to six glasses of water a day; keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.

You are also less liable to colds if your system is free from the intestinal poisons of constipation, so empty the bowels regularly with a plain vegetable laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

At the first sign of a cold, at the first few warning sneezes, take a teaspoonful of Syrup Pepsin and the congestion will be gone in a few hours. Don't wait until the cold has a grip on you. Mr. Henry Dean, Jr., of Rochester, N. Y., cured a stubborn cold in just that way, and Mrs. Alice Cubbrey of Haskell, Okla., uses it effectively for all the small ills of her family, such as constipation, biliousness, headaches, dizziness, and to break up fevers and colds.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a scientifically-balanced "compound of Egyptian senna with pleasant-tasting aromatics. It is safe to give to infants, and all children like it. Before you again resort to cold remedies containing narcotics try a teaspoonful of Syrup Pepsin. Any druggist will supply you, and the cost is less than a cent a dose.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

While a fruit stain is still moist cover it with powdered starch. When dry, rinse in cold water and wash in the ordinary way.

* * *

If the sewing machine has been used for making white or light-colored garments, there are often stains left by machine oil. To remove them rub with a cloth dipped in ammonia and then wash with soap and water.

* * *

Eggshells ought to be cleaned, dried, and kept for clearing soups. They need to be crushed when wanted for this purpose, and mixed with just a little white of egg, left over, perhaps, when making a cake.

Why we Feel Achey, Stretchy, Indolent & Weary in the Spring

DURING the winter months our bodies are constantly being subjected to sharp and sudden changes of temperature which act as shocks to all of our organs. We rush from the bitter cold and biting winds of outdoors into our over-heated and ill-ventilated homes or places of employment, then back again into chilling snow or cutting sleet.

But the temperature of our bodies remains the same during all the sudden changes that we make from very cold to very hot surroundings, because an even temperature of our blood is absolutely necessary to a normal activity of our organs. So it must be clear that whenever we pass from a hot and poorly ventilated place into the cold fresh air of outdoors, we impose an enormous stress on the delicate mechanism that keeps the temperature of our bodies the same, year in and out. It must also be clear that there is bound to come a time when we will feel the consequences of this stress in one way or another.

So we need not be surprised, then, that when spring arrives and the mild weather tempts us to open the windows and admit an abundance of fresh air or to take walks in the warm sunshine, we feel a bit achey, stretchy, "gappy" and lack energy. These symptoms simply mean that the organs of our bodies are slowly adjusting themselves to the new more favorable climatic conditions, and that in doing so they are forced to show some signs of the burdens that were placed on them during the long months of sudden and severe changes of temperature. The symptoms that we generally experience when spring arrives are the same symptoms that most people experience when they migrate from one country to another; we have to become acclimated when we move from one climate to another, and during this adjustment to new atmospheric conditions there is bound to be some interference with the functional activity of our organs. In other words, we have to become acclimated to Spring, and this accounts for the fact that we usually feel indolent and weary while the adjustment is taking place.

But sometimes the stress imposed on our organs during the trying months of winter leaves them in a debilitated condition, so the adjustment of the body to its warmer surroundings is inevitably slow. When this is the case, we should assist our organs by taking a good general tonic and restorative. We should take a preparation that enriches the blood, strengthens the nerves and invigorates all the organs of our bodies. A preparation that contains the elements that are necessary in the production of vital forces will hasten the adjustment of the body to the new climatic conditions, and it will flood the body with fresh energy and robustness. Such a preparation is Wincarnis.

For almost fifty years Wincarnis has been used by those who feel achey, stretchy and weary when the mild weather comes. A great many physicians prescribe it for those who lack stamina or feel nervous or debilitated. It is an excellent tonic for men or women who are in a run-down condition.

Begin taking Wincarnis today. You will be surprised how quickly your system will respond to its extraordinary invigorating virtues.

FORBES' VIEWS ON FINANCE

—By B. C. Forbes—

Don't you wish you could make $20,000,000 by a stroke of the pen?

Durant knows how.

His Durant Motors, Inc., balance sheet discloses this wonderful achievement—disclosed it, that is, to those who understand the ways of finance. The largest "asset" of Durant Motors is given thus: "Participating contracts, $22,488,000." That item undoubtedly was a puzzle to nine out of every ten readers. They probably remarked to themselves that Durant certainly was a wizard since he could acquire one "asset" of $22,488,000 in so short a time.

* * *

It will interest these people, and all owners of Durant Motors or Star Motors stock, to learn how very easily it was done. It was done just as simply as this:

Durant Motors and two companies, Durant Motors and Star Motors, had risen make a contract with each other and, lo, this contract immediately became an "asset" worth more than $20,000,000!

Another little contract is at once put down on the Durant Motors balance sheet as worth $2,500,000.

* * *

When you know how, it is thus delightfully easy to make money—on paper. All you have to do is to form two or three different companies, have your companies make a few contracts with each other, call your contracts "worth" $1,000,000, $5,000,000, $10,000,000 or $22,488,000 and sign the figure you choose into your balance sheet as an "asset."

* * *

Some of the other items in the Durant Motors balance sheet also entice anyone who knows anything at all about finance to ask questions.

Mr. Durant supplemented his balance sheet with the following statements which gives his version of how the $22,488,000 item was brought into existence:

"Location and description of plants—at Elizabeth, N. J., we have one of the largest and best equipped plants in the country purchased from the receivers of the White Corporation for $1,500,000, owned and operated by the Durant Motor Company of New Jersey, completing a capital of $6,000,000 capacity, 400 cars per day or 150,000 cars per year; product, Durant and Star cars. All the stock of this company is owned by Durant Motors, Inc.

"At Lansing, Mich., we have a thoroughly equipped plant, complete in every detail, owned and operated by the Durant Motor Company of Michigan, comprising a capital of $5,000,000, capacity, 200 cars per day, or 75,000 cars per year; product, Durant and Star cars. This company is supervised and managed by Durant Motors, Inc., which receives for varied services 60 per cent. of the net profits.

"At Oakland, Cal., we have a modern plant, complete in every detail, owned and operated by the Durant Motor Company of California, comprising a capital of $5,000,000, capacity, 200 cars per day, or 75,000 cars per year; product, Durant and Star cars. This company is supervised and managed by Durant Motors, Inc., which receives for varied services a percentage of the net profits.

"At Lincoln, Ind., we have a large and well-arranged plant, especially adapted to the manufacture of high grade cars, owned and operated by the Durant Motor Company of Indiana, combining a capital of $4,000,000, capacity, 200 cars per day, or 75,000 cars per year; product, Durant Six and Princeton cars. This company is supervised and managed by Durant Motors, Inc., which receives for varied services 60 per cent. of the net profits.

"At Toronto, Canada, Canada, we have a thoroughly equipped plant, complete in every detail, owned and operated by Durant Motors of Canada, Limited, employing a capital of $4,000,000, capacity, 100 cars per day, or 40,000 cars per year; product, Durant and Star cars. This company is supervised and managed by Durant Motors, Inc., which receives for varied services a percentage of the net profits.

CONTINENTAL CLOTHING CO., PLANS PICNIC

Salesmen in the Franklin street and Boylston street stores of the Continental Clothing Co. are hoarding up their excess pep for next Sunday when they will have their annual outing at Silver Lake.

Peter A. Donovan

The salesmen will be the guests of Peter A. Donovan, vice-president of the organization, at his Summer cottage, "The Jack O'Lantern." There will be numerous novel features and surprises in the program prepared by Mr. Donovan, to say nothing of a ball game between teams representing the two stores.

After the game a lobster dinner will be served and then there will be more sports.

The committee having charge comprises William J. Carroll, chairman; Jack Richmond, Thomas Quinn, William J. Sullivan, Thomas McCormack and Mr. Donovan.

WEEKS REASSURES CANAL EMPLOYES

Balboa, May 8.—Secretary of War Weeks, at a public reception by canal employes assured them their interests will be fully safeguarded if the canal zone industries are leased to private individuals. The military authorities of the canal zone will give a reception to Mr. Weeks tonight.

BOSTON AMERICAN

Largest Evening Circulation in New England—May 8, 1923

Total Boston bank clearings for first six months of 1922, $7,812,000,000, or 10.62 per cent. more than in 1921.

The Nation's Freedom Is Superior to Party

The President and his associates continue their campaign for the International Court. They persist in their efforts to lead the American people into this entanglement with the League of Nations.

Despite all their apologies and evasions, these Republican leaders are trying to commit the United States to the very policy which they pledged themselves in 1920 to oppose. In such a course no honorable party man, no honorable newspaper, can follow them.

If this country is to go into the League of Nations, we may as well have back the Wilson Democracy and admit frankly what we are doing. For Mr. Wilson and his covenant it can be at least said that the issue was openly presented and fairly argued. Mr. Wilson honestly believed in his league. He gave his reasons to the people, stood by them, and went down to defeat for them.

Mr. Harding gave no such evidence of good faith. He secured his high office by his pretended opposition to the league in all its parts, to its spirit and to its letter. He made his campaign on a platform which pledged him to the principles of Washington, Jefferson and Monroe—a platform which disavowed all entanglements with foreign nations. He declared his allegiance to this platform. In the Senate, at Marion, in Des Moines he proclaimed to the voters still more definitely his determination, if elected, to keep this republic free from any alliances with foreign powers.

Yet no sooner was he in the White House than he proceeded to entangle the United States in the Four-Power Treaty, the only alliance made by this country in a century. And now he seeks to drag America against her will into a World Court, established by the League of Nations, selected by the League of Nations, and controlled by the League of Nations.

How can a man stand before the American people with such a repudiation of principles in his mouth—how can he solicit the endorsement of voters he has so openly deceived?

Mr. Harding has not kept faith with the 16,000,000 voters who elected him. He promised to do the very opposite of what he today is doing. He has not kept faith with the people of the whole nation. He has not kept faith with the trust bestowed upon him when he took the oath and the office which now give him his power to act. Excepting the international bankers who, to save their money, would embroil us in Europe, excepting a few sentimentalists and propagandists, he has kept faith with nobody. And by breaking faith with the great mass of the American people, he has brought this nation to a fateful political crisis.

If the world financiers in the United States are to control both great parties, if they can dictate foreign policies to Harding Republicans and Wilson Democrats alike, if they can compel both Republican and Democratic leaders to declare finally for the entanglement of the United States in the league covenant, then any honorable American, any truly American newspaper, must prefer to support Mr. Wilson or Mr. Wilson's candidates for office. They at least are frank, honest and consistent even in their errors.

However, there is another course open to genuine Americans who value America's safety and welfare above any allegiance to party. That course is to rally around some man like Reed of Missouri, Johnson of California, Borah, La Follette or Ford—any man with the courage and ability to start a new party which will be the servant of the whole people and not a mere handmaid of J. P. Morgan and associates.

The real power in Washington today is J. P. Morgan. In foreign affairs, he is the perpetual President of the United States. Never chosen by the people, he through his emissaries has controlled nevertheless two administrations. And for their own advantage, he and his associates and financial allies are preparing to control a third administration.

Only by their own power and acts can the American people prevent this. They cannot commission others to save them and expect to be saved. They have tried this plan and have failed. The present administration in Washington proves that in the old method there is no hope.

As the affairs of the nation now stand, since Mr. Harding's apostasy, the people of the United States have but one way to keep themselves free, independent, sovereign and faithful to the traditions of the republic. That way is by the creation and support of a party whose fundamental principles will be loyalty to America's citizenship and definite opposition to the control of government by the great financial interests that now possess it as a prostitute it to their own ends.

Otherwise the people will be mocked, and mocked again, as they are mocked today by the Republican leaders who deceived them in 1920 and by the Democrats who have tried to mislead them since 1918.

Poor Piggly Wiggly

Copyright, 1923, Star Company

Mr. Saunders, father of Piggly-Wiggly, went into Wall Street's market. He knows now all the emotions of many a little pig that has walked into Mr. Armour's establishment in Chicago. When he came out he was not the same as when he went in.

But all that is past and unimportant except to Mr. Piggly-Wiggly. Out of all that you gather one pleasing financial euphemism. Piggly-Wiggly tried to beat Wall Street. You are not supposed to do THAT. Wall Street is there to beat YOU.

When you try to beat Wall Street the financial institutions down there simply refuse to lend any money on your securities. And then you can't sell them.

Anywhere else that would be called a boycott. In Wall Street they call it "eliminating the stock from loan envelopes," which has a much more pleasant sound and does away with the unpleasant suggestion of conspiracy.

Democrats and Republicans

Copyright, 1923, Star Company

Senator Owens of Oklahoma says Henry Ford could be elected, but it needs no Senator from Oklahoma or ghost from the grave to tell you that.

With Democrats saying the United States needs a League of Nations to manage it and Republicans offering to submit the affairs of this country to a World Court, where we should be outnumbered by at least five to one, such a man as Henry Ford declaring his belief in the ability of the United States to manage the affairs of the United States would attract considerable attention.

If the Republican party wants to stay in power it will do well to get back its confidence in the American people and lean less on Europe. The other side of the Atlantic Ocean is a long way off for a "leaning spot."

Should a Wife Work?

Editor Boston American:

Will you please give me a little advice? I am married, have three children and a happy home, but money is scarce. I worked and earned good pay before my marriage. Should I go to work again to help out the family exchequer? My children are old enough to care for themselves during the day, but my husband is against my working and says a wife's place is at home. What do some of your other readers think about it. I am very much inclined to insist on having my own way.

A. L. M.

"Our Sister Republic"

Editor Boston American:

As Americans we have a pecuniary interest in seeing that Germany pays our heavy debtor, France. This, not merely because France cannot pay us until she gets on her financial feet, but because if we sit idly by and let Germany "welsh" on her obligations to our sister republic, we cannot very consistently demand later that she pay us the millions that by the treaty she is obligated to refund as the cost of our army of occupati-n.

Please get me in touch with Mrs. K. O. B., as I have a woman's dress and Winter coat, size 40, and some dresses to fit a girl fourteen, which I think she could put to some use. M. McK.

ED. NOTE—I know she will appreciate these. Her address will be sent you. Thank you.

For Man Out of Work

Editor Helping Hand:

Having read in your paper of a man out of work all Winter needing some shoes and working clothes, if you will send me his address I have a good coat and vest, working shoes and stockings and shirts and underclothes of the size mentioned that I would be glad to send him. You certainly have made lots happy this Winter. MRS. P. J. H.

ED. NOTE—We don't deserve the credit any more than does the postman who brings a letter with a check in it. You will be sent A. B.'s address, and I know he will be made happy. Thank you.

Offers Clothes for Work

Editor Helping Hand:

I would like the address of some woman with grown-up girls from twelve to fifteen who will give me a day perhaps once a week to do cleaning. I will pay her what I can, and in addition the two girls can be kept in clothes, discards, but in good condition. Just now I can fit a girl out from hat to shoes for the Summer. She has got to come and get them, as I am a sick woman and unable to do more than get them together. I also have a large Eddy refrigerator in good condition anyone can have who will take it away.

MRS. G. H. P.

ED. NOTE—You will be put in touch with a little East Boston girl with a great many sisters and a few brothers, who would be delighted with the outfit you mention. The refrigerator will be held for replies from needy people. Many thanks for both offers.

Boys Need Clothes

Editor Helping Hand:

I am a girl sixteen years old, and the oldest of eleven children, six boys and five girls, ages from one to sixteen. All of the boys, nine, ten, twelve and fifteen, needs suits badly, and my father needs a suit, size 38. My mother's size is 42. She is sick and cannot do much work, but I can fix things some, as she can tell me how. LOUISE.

Five Little Ones In Need

Editor Helping Hand:

My husband is a farmer, earning only twelve dollars a week, and, as I have five little ones, it is not enough, and someone told me about your work. My girls are fourteen, twelve, seven and a half and three, and a boy, ten. They need shoes and clothes dreadfully. I do not care what kind of clothes they are as long as they are sanitary and can be made over. For shoes they wear sizes 4½, 2½ and 10 for the girls, 12½ for the boy and 6 for the baby. MRS. C. E. P. 2.

Dresses for Girl

Editor Helping Hand:

I have some dresses for a little girl five or six years old, which I would like to give to some little girl. Also some other things. I will pay the postage on these if given some address.

MRS. J. C.

ED. NOTE—You will be put in touch with Mrs. S. K., who has a girl six and whose husband has been sick and unable to work. Thank you.

Clothes for a Man

Editor Helping Hand:

I have a suit of clothes for a man, size 40, some collars and some neckties, which I am only too glad to give to someone in need. Have been a reader of Hearst's newspapers in Chicago, New York and the past eight years in Massachusetts. Great praise is due your efforts in this work, which is a godsend to the poor and needy. W. S.

ED. NOTE—Seems as though the praise belonged with you kind readers rather than with us. You will be put in touch with Mrs. W. K., whose husband is in great need of clothes. Thank you.

Alone in the World

Editor Helping Hand:

I am a very poor woman, over middle age, and I am very much in need of clothes. I go out once in a while doing housework, but can't make enough to buy anything. Would some one be kind enough to send me anything in the line of underwear, house dresses, skirts or street dress, shoes, size 6½. Can use any size over 40. I have no relatives and am all alone in the world. I am stopping with friends here who have been very kind to me.

MRS. A. B. 3.

Shoes and Rubbers

Editor Helping Hand:

I have two pairs of shoes in good condition and a pair of rubbers that I will gladly send A. R. B. A. P.

ED. NOTE—Thank you. You will be put in touch with him.

Coat and Baby Clothes

Editor Helping Hand:

I wish to give Mrs. S. a light-weight coat such as she asks for, and also a few baby clothes, if you will forward me her address.

MRS. W. B. P.

ED. NOTE—Thank you. Her address has been sent you.

Women's Shoes

Editor Helping Hand:

I would be glad to know of persons who could use a pair of slightly worn cordovan oxfords, size 4 A, Cuban heel, a pair of new rubbers, size 4½, to wear with high heels, and a pair of new corsets, size 20 (misses' low bust.) E. M. L.

ED. NOTE—These will be held for replies. Thank you.

For Her Boy

Editor Helping Hand:

Will you please send me the address of Mrs. C. F. and will send her a few things for her twelve-year-old boy. A. E. C.

ED. NOTE—Thank you. Her address will be sent you.

Clothes Offered

Editor Helping Hand:

Kindly send me the address of Mrs. L. C. 2, who asked for baby clothes and clothes for a girl eighteen months old. I have a few which she may have.

MRS. W. F.

ED. NOTE—Her address will be sent you. Thank you.

Very Much In Need

Editor Helping Hand:

My husband left me five months ago with two small children, and another one coming this month. Is there not some way you could get some kind reader to send me some baby clothes and night dresses for myself? I am very much in need. I am taking in washings to help keep my little ones, in spite of my condition.

MRS. D. E. K.

Blue Serge Suit

Editor Helping Hand:

If you will send me Mrs. C. F.'s address, I have a blue serge suit and a few other things the girl size 36 could use. I also have a good pair of high shoes, size 5 D, and pumps, 4½. MRS. R. E. S.

ED. NOTE—You will be sent her address. If she cannot use the shoes, will you please let us know, so that we can give them to some other needy family? Thank you.

THE SIX-HOUR DAY CALLED GREATEST MENACE OF AGE

By Herbert Kaufman

LAUNDRY owners, meeting at Atlantic City, are told that the prospect of a six-hour work-day is the outstanding menace of the age. Progress controverts the accusation.

Great men, we are reminded, did not merely use one-fourth of their clocks. They don't now.

Sir Hugh Allen, addressing pupils of the Royal College, also complains of haste as the supreme waster of this century.

We are in a hurry. Opportunity won't permit dawdling methods and drawling minds. Universal schedules demand speed.

With present facilities, improved tools and minute clipping machines tasks that once took sixteen hours should be accomplished in six, and are.

Saved Time Has Gone to Our Heads

Efficiency's most precious dividend is leisure for reflection and recuperation. Time saved by invention and shrewdness goes to our heads.

It has permitted millions who otherwise would be exhausted and dulled by protracted grinds, relaxation, chance for self-survey, and left them with vitality to dream and scheme on their own hook.

The popularity of correspondence schools, home university courses, instructive and cultural publications, all attest that the later opening and earlier closing of offices and shops has spurred, not diminished, ambition.

Enthusiasm for sports, constantly encouraging health statistics and mortality records, not to mention 9,000 new patents a month, riddle, if they don't ridicule, the arguments of both Jeremiahs.

Business incomes, industrial dividends and prosperity—point to the sanity and profit in human conservation.

Science Licks Its Chops at the News

Cock an eye at Nevada and imagine what to do with a twenty-five hundred square-mile area just discovered in her interior.

Bone-dry, enclosed by mountains and mesas, these acres now rebuff the least form of life.

But place a bet on science and wait until constructive curiosity comes sailing past barriers to cross-examine the region.

Every such barren area has disclosed some treasure trove. Borax poured from one desert. Orange groves and cotton plantations went into the imperial valley and incredible crops are coming out of the repellant stretch, once the Salton Sea.

Irrigation herewith begs another chance. Metallurgy licks its chops in anticipation of further ore beds.

Not an inch of this earth is purposeless and not a yard of it has yet been adequately processed.

Henry Takes a Cue From the Packers

Henry Ford says that he'll treat men as well and enable them to live as comfortably in the coal fields as at Detroit and undertakes to show fellow operators how his ideas pay better than theirs. Ford only mispredicts when bias and vanity betray judgment.

On familiar ground the man is invincible. So take stock in his assertion that over a million tons of bituminous may be daily saved by competent mine management.

Packing-house methods support Ford's contention that fuel shouldn't be used in the raw.

Beef and pork would cost consumers many times present prices if stockyard charges weren't mainly met by by-products proceeds.

Whenever a cart dumps its ton into furnace bins, nine gallons of tar, two and a half of benzol, twenty-two pounds of ammonia and ten thousand cubic feet of gas are thrown away.

He intends to sell us the smokeless residuum, teach folk to use coke, and deliver it at prices that will make household budgets grin with delight.

Ford mines his brain. Drive a pick into yours, identical stuff is there.

Watch Building Costs Come Down

Turpentine is coming down, too. Painters and housebuilders please note.

A Louisiana company successfully puts pine through the saws, then draws nine gallons of "turps," one of oil and a barrel of rosin from every thousand board feet. The process gives better lumber, to boot.

After a while houses won't cost so much, either. Timber is full of overhead cutters, whose extraction will reduce present operating expenses and consequently building materials.

Bark and sawdust invite persistent research. Many more valuable unsuspected wealths are en route from planing-mill waste heaps.

Chemistry begins to poke its nose into all sorts of refuse piles.

If wailers at general impatience to get ahead will look around they'll observe incalculable results from leaving folk with a few moments for pondering on possibility.

Grandfather Never Heard of Such Things

Sober and industrious grandfather, with his nose always on the grindstone, didn't discover helium or contrive a camera to photograph it and thus observe the disintegration of atoms.

He marveled, instead, at Houdini and Hermann, and died still held in amazement at hands quicker than eyes. Today airships are fleeter than prophecy.

Barbot, pioneer aviator, butts in on international applause at America's coast-to-coast flight. His tiny 14-horsepower monoplane holds an average clip of 40 miles for three hours and three minutes on a little over 15 gallons of gasoline.

Don't bother about congested streets. Elevated taxis are humming on the horizon. A few years hence you'll be paying first instalments on a winged runabout to be bought and maintained for far less than any ground-crawling man or merchandise carrier.

The Formula for Failure

Laundry conventions and royal collegians are respectfully referred to China, where everybody is "everlastingly at it" and the combined activities of 400,000,000,000 footsept inheritors can't pay off a paltry half billion total to foreign debts or justify the extension of any considerable further loans.

Their government is at wit's end to borrow $15,000,000. The six-hour-day isn't operating there.

"All work and no play" is the formula of national failure.
